Call 54 Men To Service

Largest Group To Be Sent From
This County Will Go In Month of May

A selective service call for fifty-four white men was received by the local county board this morning, J. K. "Pat" Kid, clerk, announced. The men are to be ready to leave for induction during the month of May and will be selected from those who have already been examined.

This group is to report at Jefferson Barracks.

The call is the largest to be received by the Pettis County Selective Service Board. Another call is expected in the near future.

Reclassifying 3-A

A bulletin was received by the board this morning notifying them to prepare to re-classify men under the present classification of 3-A. Indicating the war requirements may compel industries into the armed forces, national headquarters, Selective Service System, has directed the separation of such now deferred registrants into two groups (Class III-A and Class III-B) according to whether or not the individual registrants are engaged in activities essential to the nation's war effort.

Those not engaged in essential activities (Class III-A) will be the first selected for military service when it becomes necessary to induct men with dependents.

Instructions Stern

Concerning cases of comparatively recently acquired dependency, Colonel Earp said, "The new instructions are stern in the exclusion from deferment of registrants, when there is indication that the dependency was acquired to avoid military service." The instructions state, "In cases where the dependency status (such as marriage) was acquired on or after December 8, 1941, or acquired when induction was imminent, or for the primary purpose of providing a basis for dependency deferment, pregnancy, birth or acquiring a child, shall not be cause for deferred classification for dependents."

In Class III-A shall be placed any registrant upon whose earnings one or more persons depend for support in a reasonable manner and who is NOT engaged in an activity either essential to the war production program or essential to the support of the war effort.

In Class III-B shall be placed
any registrant upon whose earnings one or more persons depend
for support in a reasonable manner and who IS engaged in an activity either essential to the war production program or essential to the support of the war effort.

Defense Council Meeting Friday

The Pettis County Council of Defense will hold a meeting Friday night at the Chamber of Commerce office. All members of the council are asked to attend this meeting over which Julian
H. Bagby, chairman, will preside.
Matters of importance pertaining to the local defense will be discussed.

Miss Smith Secretary To Prosecuting Attorney

Miss Mary Francis Smith has assumed the duties as secretary to Prosecuting Attorney L. J. Harned, replacing Miss Mary Ross Hoffman who will be married Saturday. Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Smith, 220 South Lamine avenue.

Slight Fire Damage

The fire companies, at 6:51 o'clock this morning, were called to 2247 East Broadway where an oil tank heater had caught fire.
Slight damage resulted. The fire was extinguished before the arrival of the fire companies.

Uncle El

Seems to me it would make just as much sense to charge an initiation fee to get into the army or navy as it does to let the unions get away with forcing men who go to work in war plants to fork over such fees. Let's keep 'em down. And initiation fees come under that heading as well as profits that go to the plant operators.

Aged Man Mistaken, Rival Wasn't There

SWANTON, Vt., April 30.—(AP)— Nelson Coons, 80, was held in St. Albans jail today on a second degree arson charge after he allegedly confessed setting fire to a central Vermont railway tool shed in the belief that a 75-year old rival was in the shed with a woman they both loved.

No one was in the shed at the time. The building was destroyed.
State's attorney John H. Webster said Coons signed a confession which told that the aged man crept up behind the shed and set fire to it.

The penalty is a one-to-five-year prison sentence.

Senator Miller New Kiwanian

Club Observes
U. S.-Canada
Good Will Week

Sedalia Kiwanians observed United States-Canada Good Will week by a special program at their meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon.

State Senator George Miller, introduced by Program Chairman Pinkney Miller, was the principal speaker, devoting his theme to comments on the peaceful relations between the U. S. and Canada as a goal toward which the nations of the world should strive. He recognized that principles such as expounded by Kiwanis International, if recognized and applied, will bring world peace.

Prior to his address, Senator Miller was inducted as a new member of the Sedalia club, the ceremony being performed by E.
H. McLaughlin, chairman of the education committee.

National Songs Sung

At the opening of the meeting Burney Morris led the club in singing "The Star Spangled Banner," and "God Save The King."
During the program, Mr. Morriss, Jack Crawford and Abe Rosenthal composed a trio singing
"O, Canada."

Guests were William B. Morgan, new manager of the Goodyear Service Store and Kiwanian
C. J. Perkins, of Lawrence, Kas.
The board of directors and program chairman will meet Friday noon at Keuck's tavern when the chairman will submit their written monthly report of activities.

Ray Jiedel will be program chairman during May.

Woman 100 Years Old Wants To Make Garden

Mrs. Ella J. Murray and her mother, Mrs. Mary A. Hite, who have been living at 902 West their country home near Bunceton.

Mrs. Hite, who is one hundred years and three months old, says she is happy to be going back to the country, where she can help make garden.

Puzzle

PHILADELPHIA — Rationing authorities have the world's biggest jig-saw puzzle in their hands—400,000 gasoline rationing cards that burst out of their cardboard boxes en route from Washington and became hopelessly mixed up.

The cards all numbered, must be issued serially to motorists beginning May 12 and, an official complained,
"and it'll take weeks to straighten them out."

Middle Man

SANTA FE, N. M.—Willis G.
McGuire, 77, marched into rifle and shotgun, and told officials he was ready.

Advised the army wouldn't take him, McGuire handed over his weapons.

Table Measure On Profits- Labor Issue

Action Backs Up
FDR's Message
To Congress

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP)—
By a single vote margin, the house naval committee tabled today a measure to limit war profits, lift the statutory work week limit from 40 to 48 hours and freeze the status quo of closed and open shops for the duration of the war.

The vote was 13 to 12, and came shortly after Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) told the members that "the American people are going to have something to say about this racketeering in war plants and in labor unions in every congressional district in the nation in the November elections."

The action, climax of two months of stormy hearings on the profits-labor issue, backed up President Roosevelt's message to congress earlier this week that no labor legislation was necessary at this time.

Up to Other Committee

Simultaneously, it left the question of limiting war profits up to the ways and means committee, now studying the chief executive's suggestion for a $25,000 ceiling on individual incomes after payment of taxes, along with other proposals for sharp increases in the excess profits levy.

The motion to table the measure was made by Rep. Bradley (D-Pa.).

One informed member of the senate who declined to be quoted by name predicted that no action would be taken by that body on labor legislation for approximately 30 days, during which time the situation might be expected to "clarify" as public sentiment crystallized.

Other senate advocates of labor legislation, while expressing doubt that early action could be expected in view of lack of administration support, declared they had not abandoned the fight.

Insists Legislation Needed

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters that despite lack of recommendations from the President, legislation was needed
"to prevent the possibility of labor trouble and disunity."

Chairman William H. Davis of the War Labor Board, to which President Roosevelt has left the settlement of wage disputes, declared at a press conference that he did not believe it was the President's intention to "freeze" wages, but rather to adjust them to the cost of living.

Rep. Izac (D-Calif.) declared that approval of the bill would "constitute a slap in the face for the President."

Even more emphatic was Rep.
Cannon (D-Mo.), who asserted that the bill's profit limitation feature was inserted "simply to railroad the labor restrictions through congress."

County Collector Makes Settlement

J. B. Greer, county collector, Wednesday afternoon filed his annual settlement with the Pettis county court for the year ending February 28, 1942. The settlement shows $669,594.34 paid to the treasurer, from all sources.

Taxes paid to treasurer are:
State tax $63,182.46.
County tax $196,240.85.
Road tax $91,386.65.
School tax $306,096.43.
City and Town $10,687.95.
Total $669,594.34.

The report also shows that the collector withheld as his fees $111-613.92, out of which his deputies are paid.

The county court upon examining the settlement approved and accepted it.

Expect Few Men To Be Exempt

ST. LOUIS, April 30.—(AP)— Major Earnest G. Carlson, state selective service liaison officer, believes only chemical and aeronautical engineers and tool and die makers will be untouched by the draft.

Speaking at a meeting of the Associated Industries of Missouri last night, Carlson asserted: "Men with children, as well as those with one eye and one ear, will be called into some type of service."

That will be made necessary, he stated, because a total of 38-500,000 men will be necessary to win the war. Of that number 10-000,000 will be in the armed services, the others in war industries.

Dealers Sign To Get Sugar

Instructions concerning the resistering of persons for their rations of sugar next Tuesday were explained at the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening by C. F. Scotten, county superintendent of schools.

Teachers of rural schools in the county will be in charge of the registration of all persons who expect to receive weekly allotments of sugar after the rationing program goes into actual operation.

H. U. Hunt, superintendent of the Sedalia public schools, estimated Wednesday night that 218 retail and wholesale sugar merchants in the city had registered Tuesday and Wednesday at Smith-Cotton high school. The registration office of the school remained open until about 8:30 o'clock.

Merchants who did not register during the past two days will have to go before the county rationing board if they desire to sell sugar in the future.

Only three county registrars have been heard from, M. C. Hudson, Longwood, who registered 8; Glenn R. Snyder, Hughesville, whose total registration was 12;
and Keith Davis, Green Ridge, reported twelve.

Fourteen Die In Kansas Tornado

OBERLIN, Kas., April 30.—(AP)—
A freak twister which skipped through a rural area a quarter mile east of Oberlin about 11:30 last night (CWT) left 14 dead and 13 injured. Only six homes were hit.

OBERLIN, Kas., April 30.—(AP)—
A midnight tornado ripped through southern Decatur county today killing 12 persons and injuring 13 others severely.

Two families were wiped out by the storm which slashed through a farming area south of Oberlin.
A four-year-old boy, blown away, had not been found by rescuers hours later.

The city, itself, escaped damage.

The furious blast carried away livestock and levelled farm buildings through an area half mile wide. In several instances not a trace of the buildings remained.
In others, only splintered boards showed where homes and stock barns formerly stood.

One of the victims, Mrs. Dale Paddock, was found on a creek bank, her head and shoulders driven into the ground by the twister. Her son vanished, her husband, the third member of the family was killed also.

Gus Leipner, his wife and daughter, were killed in the wreckage of their home.

The other dead:
—Leipner, 9 years old; Eileen Beeneta, 15; Mrs. James Beeneta,
Jr., mother of Eileen; —Leabitt 17; Leon Railsback, 19, and Nicholson.

Oberlin is in the northwest corner of Kansas, about 30 miles south of the Nebraska line.

Bothwell Hospital Notes

Marilyn Morris, 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. U.
Morris, who underwent an operation for appendicitis Tuesday evening, is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Harold Morrison, 106 West Second street, has been admitted for medical treatment.

John Harms, Ionia, was admitted for observation.

Miss Anna Croll, Mrs. Louis Corley and daughter, Myrtle El-denburg, Mrs. J. E. Morrow and daughter, and Phillip Newton have been dismissed from the hospital.

Lashio Falls To Japanese

Fighting Continues
In Lashio Vicinity; Situation Bad For Chinese And British

CHUNGKING, China, April 30.—(AP)—Lashio, the Burmese back door to China, fell to the Japanese Wednesday after a battle in which both sides suffered heavy casualties, the Chinese high command announced tonight.

Both old and new Lashio have fallen, but a battle still is continuing in the vicinity of Lashio, a communique said. Twelve Japanese tanks were listed as destroyed.

The loss of Lashio menaces the entire British-Chinese defense of Burma.

BY DE WITT MACKENZIE

Wide World War Analyst

We have to face exceedingly bad news today from Burma in the further Japanese successes which have enabled them to get a foot squarely in China's back door and increase the already grave threat to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's fighting machine.

By cutting a bloody swath through to Lashio the Japs have secured the great supply depot that marks the beginning of the famous Burma Road which winds its solitary way through the mountains to the Chinese capital of Chungking and has been China's lifeline to the outside world. Lashio's rail communication with the Burmese port of Rangoon had, of course, already been severed, but control of this entrance to the Burma Road would be essential to any plan for moving Japanese forces into China over this route.

"Flying Tigers" Helping

The Japanese thrust to Lashio also places the defending allied forces in the Mandalay sector in a dangerous position by threatening them with envelopment.
However, word from the headquarters of Lieut. Gen. Stilwell, American commander of the Chinese forces, is that he is prepared to fight for every inch of territory. He is getting yeoman's help from the American volunteer "Flying Tigers" who have continued to give the Japanese heavy punishments.

The persistence of the Japanese in this major drive through Burma makes it clear that they are bent on completing their conquest of China as an integral part of their scheme for a new order in eastern Asia. The Chinese military position now is more serious than ever, owing to the severance of supplies through Burma, the loss of the Burmese petroleum fields upon which they were dependent for the oil without which no fighting machine can run successfully, and the menace of invasion of southwest China over the Burma Road.

Should the Japanese succeed in getting an army into this rich portion of China upon which Chiang depends so much for food and minerals, the great generalissimo's cup certainly would be poisoned.

Students May Now Train As Pilots

Five young Sedalians have recently enlisted in the navy, through the local navy recruiting office. They are: Charles Dale Murray, route 6; Robert Hale Eubank; Andrew Windell Livingston, 520 South Lafayette;
William Lee Rimel, 1725 South
Carr avenue; Corley Elvis Smith, R.R. No. 1, Chilhowee.

S. G. Drilling, in charge of the recruiting office, stated today that high school students are now eligible for aviation pilot training, which heretofore has required at least two years college work. These young men, said Mr.
Drilling, in addition to being physically fit, must pass an intelligence test, passing with a grade of at least 80 per cent.

lican legislator from Jasper county and editor of a trade union in bed at his home today. He was 68.

Fear came here originally from Carthage, Missouri. He was editor

CIO Coke Oven Strike Over

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 30.—
(AP)—CIO coke oven employes returned to work at the Bethlehem Steel company's big plant here today, their two-day walkout ended under an arrangement calling for swift action by the war labor board on their demands for a wage increase.

Harry E. Boules, labor consultant for the war production board and James B. Get, sub-regional director of the union, said in a joint statement the wage dispute would be referred to the war labor board "with priority over all other cases for an immediate decision."

The coke oven workers are demanding a 12½ cents an hour increase in wages ranging upward from 27½ cents an hour. They said they tried for 14 months to get the raise and were "tired of waiting."

The walkout had got off the supply of by-product gas and coke to rolling mills and blast furnaces. Sidney D. Evans, company official, said the shutdown causes an "irreplaceable loss" of 3,000 tons of steel ingots in the blast furnaces.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
By DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—AFL and CIO chiefs, sometimes called the president's "labor cabinet," tried to put the heat on him at the White House last week to stave off the ban on wage boosts. But they never had a chance.

The president pulled a charm filibuster on them — a favorite Roosevelt tactic when he wants to avoid talking about something.

Apparently the president figured the labor leaders would make a final attempt to block the pay freeze. So he launched his filibuster as soon as CIO President Philip Murray walked in, by previous arrangement 10 minutes ahead of the other members of the joint committee. Whatever Murray intended to say, he never had the remotest chance.

The president immediately started talking about New York politics, and what he described as the "colorful career" of Lieut. Gov. Charles Poletti.

This took up nine of the 10 minutes allotted to Murray. Then, before he could break in, the president said, "Well, Phil, I guess it's time to call in the other boys. I know you don't want to keep them waiting."

That ended that. So Round I went to the president by a big margin.

Round Two
Roosevelt took Round II by the same filibustering tactics and by the same wide margin.

Again, after the laborites had been seated and amenities had been exchanged, he launched immediately into a discussion of politics and politicians and kept this up in his most entertaining vein for most of the hour allotted to the conference.

Then he pointedly ended the meeting by remarking, "Well, boys, I guess it's time for lunch."

The disconcerted laborites had to take the hint. But as they rose to go Murray made one last attempt to raise the wage-freezing issue.

"Mr. President," he said, "are you going to issue an order to the War Labor Board not to grant any further wage increases?"

Cocking his cigarette holder at a breezy angle the president answered with a broad grin, "Well, Phil, I haven't said that I will and I haven't said that I won't."

And that's all the laborites were able to get out of him.

Petty Politics
Behind the scenes, there was more to this incident than a maneuver to avert an unwelcome discussion.

Actually it was the climax to a growing resentment in White House quarters at the short-sighted attitude of the labor chiefs toward the grave inflation situation and their persistent practice of playing petty politics on important appointments affecting their own interests.

A graphic illustration was their recommendation of Wendell Lund, little-known executive director of the Michigan State Unemployment Compensation Commission, for appointment as head of the reorganized Labor Production Division of the War Production Board.

For months, the AFL and CIO have been loudly demanding more "labor participation" in the war machinery. The Labor Production Division is of the utmost importance to labor. But when it came to proposing a chief of this key labor agency, the laborites did not offer the name of a labor man.

Because of personal jealousies and petty personal politics, they passed over such outstanding production experts as Robert Watt, AFL head of the International Labor Office; Clint Golden, brainy head of the CIO Steel Workers; or Walter Reuther, dynamic young vice-president of the Auto Workers.

Side Glances

Instead, the politics-playing labor moguls got together on Lund, a lawyer, with very limited industrial experience and no knowledge at all of the war production program.

Around the White House, it is no secret that the president is getting awfully fed up with this kind of labor "statesmanship."

NOTE: When John L. Lewis heard that Murray and William Green had proposed Lund, he rumbled, "In six months they'll wish they had Hillman back."

Good Neighbors
The torpedoes Argentine tanker Victoria displayed her neutrality with no less than six flags painted on bridge, sides, and stern. Yet the Nazis went for her. . . . Some time after U. S. tire freezing, a shipment of tires arrived in Brazil from Liverpool, on the British steamer Laplace. . . . Guatemala has ordered deportation of 22 axis agents. Also she would like to deport 75,000 bags of coffee piled up at Puerto Barrios, with no shipping in sight. . . . The British have purchased the entire sugar crop of the Dominican Republic. . . . Labor troubles in the Potosi mines, high in the Bolivian Andes, are expected to cause a decline in tin exports to U. S. . . . Argentina is casting uneasy glances at delivery of U. S. planes and other armament to neighbor Uruguay. But Uruguay has heartily supported the democratic bloc.

LaFollette's Waistline
Driving to work the other morning, a capitol newsman spied a familiar figure hoofing it and pulled up alongside.

"Care for a lift, Senator?" he offered.

"No thanks," replied Senator Bob LaFollette of Wisconsin cheerily. "I need the exercise. I'm trying to reduce my waistline."

The reporter drove on. Ar-

"It is about time to begin," complained Bone, "but a quorum of the committee isn't present. I wonder what has happened to Senator LaFollette. He's usually one of the first here."

The reporter held a whispered consultation with Bone, after which the senator called the hearing to order.

Steps To Lessen Cars Operations

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—Uncle Sam's employees were told Wednesday to reduce "substantially" the number of automobiles necessary to take them to and from their work.

And in the same breath, the government ordered taxicab owners to quit performing "non-essential services" for Mr. and Mrs. America, stop "cruising," encourage multiple riding and other measures to obtain the maximum efficiency from each cab.

The directive to federal department and agency heads was issued by President Roosevelt who asserted that "it is imperative that we extended as long as possible that period of time in which we can count on private transportation on factory and office workers to their places of work and home again."

Mrs. Troy Fletcher was guest of honor at a fish dinner given at her home on April 17, in honor of her birthday anniversary. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Hull, of Sedalia, and Mrs. Juanita Harrison, of Los Angeles, Calif.

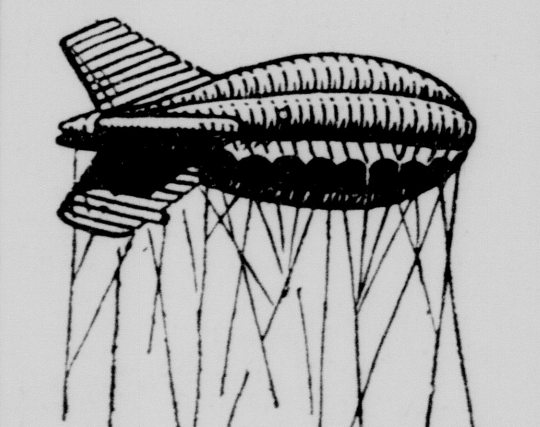

Mrs. Allen Kendrick was hostess to members of the Mutual Improvement club. Mrs. Glen Morrow was in charge of the program. She led in songs, which number was followed by a Dr. I. Q. quiz. Guests other than club members were Mrs. George Murphy and Mrs. Ralph McCarty. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Jean in serving a lunch.

Mrs. Hubert and baby daughter, Mona Lavonne, who have been in the home of Mrs. Adams' sister, Mrs. Wilford Acker, for the past two weeks, have returned to their home near Mora. Mrs. Acker accompanied them home for a few days.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Barrage balloons are an important factor in the air defense of the nation, particularly along the coast. They are silent sentries of the air and no enemy pilot will drive his ship into an area where these monsters float.

Each Barrage Balloon costs about $10,000, but purchases of War Bonds every pay day will buy the thousands of balloons we need for our protection. It will take a dime out of every dollar you earn to help supply these for the nation's safety. Do your part.

Buy U. S. War Bonds every pay day and help meet your county's War Bond quota.

Chaney. Mr. Chaney's daughter, Mrs. Helen Martin, who had been visiting in Green Ridge, has returned to her home in the state of California.

Private Ralph McCarty, of the technical school squadron, is now stationed at Chanute Field, Ill. He is a former Green Ridge youth.

Mrs. Mattie Close, of Warrensburg, spent a week with her son, Fortice Close and wife.

The Women's Christian Service Circle of McGee Chapel, met in an all-day meeting April 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oran Durrill. At noon a pot luck supper was served. Fifteen members present quitted for the hosts.

Allot Time To Adjust Affairs

JEFFERSON CITY, April 30—(P)—Col. Claude C. Earp, state draft director, cautioned draftees Wednesday night they should await actual induction into the army before making any final disposition of their personal and financial affairs.

"Every selectee must undergo final physical examination at an army reception center," Earp pointed out. "No selectee therefore, should assume that because he has passed the local board test or even because he has been ordered to an army reception center for possible induction, that he will be accepted by the army."

Those who are accepted, he said, will be given "ample time to return to their homes to adjust their personal affairs within a few days after induction" under a newly liberalized furlough policy.

Your Clothes... And The War!

Because of the necessity for all out production of War essentials our Government has asked us to conserve all woollens and have in fact ordered civilian clothes restrictions such as no patch pockets, no cuffs, no belts, no pleats, no extra pair of pants, etc. Women's clothes also will be made much plainer and without trills.

What does this mean to each of us? It means first that it is our patriotic duty to conserve and help our Government and second our own selfish interests demand that we make what we have do us as long as possible.

The best possible way to conserve woollens is to have them Dry Cleaned regularly but also THEY MUST BE PROTECTED AGAINST MOTHS. Millions of garments are destroyed by moths yearly thereby necessitating the useless purchase of millions of yards of wool. We therefore take pleasure, now more than ever, in offering the following service which is absolutely Free:

ALL WOOLENS (Knits and Boucles excepted) DRY CLEANED BY US ARE TREATED WITH MONITE AND GUARANTEED AGAINST MOTH DAMAGE FOR A PERIOD OF SIX MONTHS.

The above service and guarantee will definitely solve your moth problem, for by having your clothes cleaned regularly by us they will be constantly INSURED against moth damage and incidentally the Dry Cleaning itself will prolong the life of the garments.

J. Lumpe, Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Singleton, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Boring, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Newkirk. Mrs. Singleton and Carl Hoepfinger received the award for individual high scores, with the traveling award going to Mrs. Boring.

Attorney and Mrs. Vernon Frieze recently moved from the Union Electric property east of Warsaw, to the Lingle property in west Warsaw.

J. S. Phillips, real estate agent for the Union Electric Co., and Louis Meisner, sheriff of Benton county, were appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, as members of the Benton County Selective Service board. They will serve with J. A. Chaney Harrison Eaton, and Walter Button who were the other board members. E. H. Intelman, of Cole Camp, is clerk of the local board. Twenty men were called from Benton county on Monday and twenty on Tuesday where they were sent to Jefferson Barracks to be inducted into the U. S. army.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gibbons spent the weekend in St. Joseph where they were guests of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Marker and family and his uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Gibbons and family and other relatives.

Mrs. Bradley E. Friesz and daughter, of Bowling Green, and Ellis Gover of Springfield were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Gover. Mrs. Friesz and daughter remained for a week visit.

Miss Dorothy May, Home Demonstration agent for Benton county, left Monday for Tennessee to spend a week's vacation with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harvey, of Warsaw, and Mr. Charles Pohl and Mrs. Cecil Davis of Lincoln were called to Tulsa, Okla., Tuesday due to the death of their cousin William Hand.

The music department of the Warsaw school system gave a recital at the Community building last Friday night. Numbers were given by the band, chorus and glee club, under the direction of John M. Gibbons music instructor. The numbers presented would have been contest material.

The McCormick Book club met Monday night at the Community building. Miss Mary Mae Miller, gave a review of "Education for Death," by Gregor Ziemor. Mrs. E. R. Scott, the president presided over the business meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer See entertained at dinner April 19 in honor of their son Wayne who left April 21 for the U. S. army. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur See of Kansas City, Miss Betty Sue Kaylor and Porter Hunt of Windsor, Mrs. Hugh McDade, Mr. and Mrs. Francis See and son Donnie of Warsaw, and Mr. and Mrs. See and Ruth of the home.

Harry Ferguson of Camp Funston, Kas., spent the first of the week here visiting his mother, Mrs. H. N. Ferguson and his sister Mrs. Forest Cain of St. Louis. Harry is driver in the mechanized cavalry and has been stationed at Fort Riley for six months.

The Warsaw PTA met April 17 at the school with the president, Mrs. Ace Terrell in charge. A short skit entitled, "The Has- House" was presented by members from the Home Economics class. This skit was to give the mothers an idea of the importance of "Nutrition for Defense." Delicious honey fruit bars and tea were served to those present.

T. A. Reid was host to the stag bridge club at his home Monday night with all members present. Clay Paul received high score, and Albert Parker, low score.

The Warsaw school faculty enjoyed an "early morning breakfast" at Westview Tavern Friday morning. The table was decorated with spring flowers. Those on the committee for the entertainment were Miss Nelevda Surbaugh, Mrs. Elmer Edstrom, Miss Fynn Hasaghen, Miss Florence Hudson, and Mr. Claude R. Short. This was the last faculty event of the year.

The Warsaw Lions club of Warsaw sponsored a dance at the Community building Thursday night. Ray Leffmans' college orchestra played for the occasion. The dance was well attended with many out of town guests.

More Business Than In 1941

Majority Of Concerns Show Increases Over Same Time Last Year

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(P)—Stimulated by defense activities, business of Missouri independent retailers increased 18 per cent in March over the sales of March, 1941, and exceeded the February volume by 31 per cent.

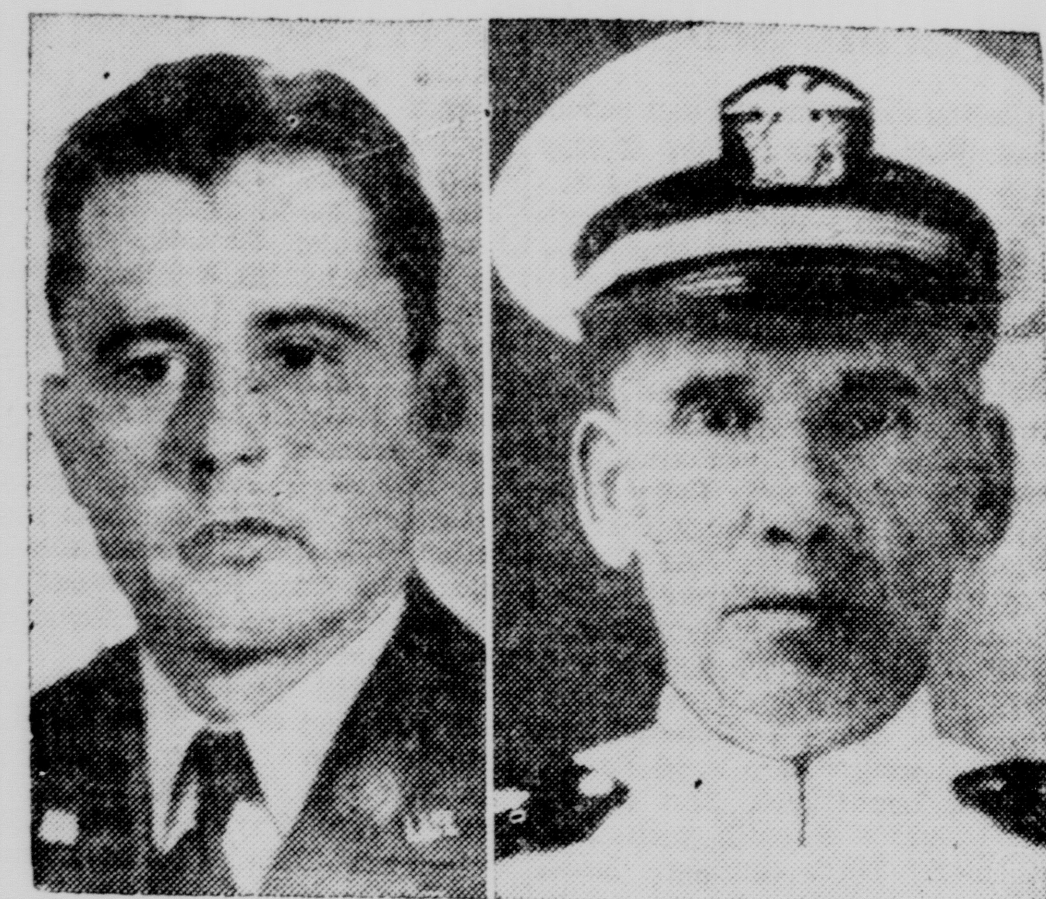

The census bureau said reports received indicated that the sales of the independent stores for the first three months of this year exceeded those for the similar period last year by 16 per cent.

In St. Louis the March business was 27 per cent more than during that month a year ago. Kansas City saw an increase of 16 per cent; St. Joseph, two; Springfield, 11; cities of 25,000 to 50,000 27; cities of 10,000 to 25,000 population, three; cities of 5,000 to 10,000 population, five; cities of 2,500 to 5,000 population, eight, and places of less than 2,500 population, 15.

Clothing Up Considerably

Sales of family clothing stores and men's clothing stores jumped 111 per cent over March, 1941; liquor stores reported a 39 per cent increase; shoe stores, 1941; liquor stores reported a 39 per cent increase, shoe stores, 1941 goods and general merchandise 34; women's ready-to-wear stores, 30; furniture stores, 30; department stores, 29; general stores with foods, 27; lumber and building materials dealers 27; jewelry stores, 23; cafes, 22; hardware stores, 13; groceries without fresh meats, 14; groceries with meats, 13; drug stores 10.

Heroes Cited By President

Some Were Losers

Car dealers lost 74 per cent and florists four per cent. In St. Louis department stores reported a 27 per cent increase; groceries without fresh meats 19; drug stores, 21; men's clothing stores 129; women's ready-to-wear stores 38; shoe stores, 44; jewelry stores 27; furniture stores 33; lumber and building materials dealers 25.

St. Louis automobile dealers did 77 per cent less business than during March, 1941, and filling stations in the city recorded a loss of eight per cent in sales.

Chinese Continue On

In this hour of peril the Chinese have announced staunchly that they will continue the fight. They have no intention of quitting. In taking this stand, which is so typical of the brave battle they have waged for long against an invader who has been far better equipped, they must get much encouragement from the message which President Roosevelt broadcast Tuesday night in his fireside chat.

"The Japanese may cut the Burma Road," said the president, "but I want to say to the gallant people of China that no matter what advances the Japanese may make, ways will be found to deliver airplanes and munitions of war to the armies of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek."

Supplies Badly Needed

Mr. Roosevelt wasn't more specific, but one was left to the conclusion that presumably air transport would play a major role in providing supplies. Much can be done in that way, and presumably in time other methods of supply will be developed. Still, the immediate problem of supply is colossal, particularly in the matter of the essential oil and gasoline.

China's great task now is to hold on until the allies can bring relief. Our striking power in the Orient is steadily increasing, and there is no reason to despair over the Chinese position, grave though it be. One of these days, when we have got set for a major offensive, we are going to dump all hell down on Tokyo and other Japanese cities from the skies. That will be the key which will open the door to peace in the Far East.

pared to give the allies to "drive Japan back to her natural limits." Curiously enough, a Berlin broadcast last night referred three times to "the axis powers and Japan," although Japan is officially linked in the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo bloc.

Other reports that Hitler and Mussolini would meet in a few days stirred immediate speculation that the fuhrer was gravely disturbed by reports of internal strife and war-weariness in Italy.

Dispatches to the London Daily Mail said Fascists observed signs of revolt in Italy, while Bern reported that food was growing ever scarcer in the Italian kingdom.

Regiments Slashed To Ribbons On the Russian war front, Soviet dispatches said regiments of the German 5th Division, described as one of Hitler's "spring offensive" divisions, were slashed to ribbons by the Red army 12 hours after they entered the front lines.

A Russian communique said the Red armies "wiped out about 1,000 enemy officers and men" in two days of fighting in the Smolensk zone, 200 miles west of Moscow.

Hitler's field headquarters acknowledged that Russian troops "succeeded in breaking through our positions" on the outskirts of a large locality, but declared they were thrown back by a counter-attack.

The city was not specifically identified, but the Nazi high command said the Russians had been using strong tank forces in fighting around Orel, Key Nazi base 200 miles south of Moscow.

Will Review Book At Friday Services

Dr. Harry S. May, rabbi of Temple Beth El, will review the book "I Was In Hell With Niemöller," by Leo Stein, at services Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

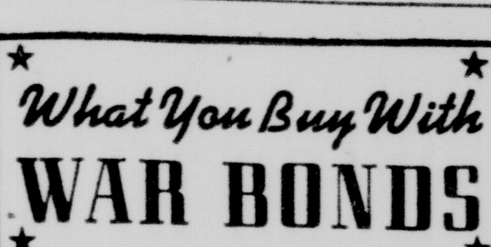

When you are free tell the world just what you have seen and heard," were the parting words of Pastor Martin Niemöller, the famous -boat commander to Leo Stein who was confined with him for two years in a German concentration camp.

The morale lifting spectacle of a Christian and a Jew bravely discussing the meaning and hope for the world that lies in true Christianity... whispering their questions and answers to each other under the very noses of the brutes guarding them in the macabre atmosphere of this human abattoir... they bring out the grisly essence of what Nazism means. This is a book that tells every Christian and Jew what we Americans are fighting for, Dr. May will tell his hearers.

Mrs. C. B. Trader

Mrs. Marion Batterton Trader, wife of Dr. Charles B. Trader, of 1717 West Third street, died Wednesday evening at the Missouri Pacific hospital in St. Louis, where last Thursday she underwent an operation. She had been ill for three months.

Mrs. Trader was born in Danville, Ky., in 1870, and was one of eleven children of Harriet Williams Batterton and George D. Batterton. She was reared in Danville, and attended Caldwell College, now affiliated with Center College there.

She was married in Memphis, Tenn., in 1902 to Dr. Trader, of Sedalia, and went to Kansas City, where they resided for a time before coming to Sedalia, which had since been there home.

Mrs. Trader was a life long member of the Presbyterian church, and at the time of death held membership in the Broadway Presbyterian church.

Surviving besides her husband is a daughter, Miss Frances Ware Trader, of the home, also three sisters, Mrs. Martha B. Bell, Mrs. Francis J. McClure and Miss Fleece Batterton, and three brothers, W. L. Batterton, B. W. Batterton and George D. Batterton, all of Kansas City.

Philip McLaughlin and Robert H. Reed, of the McLaughlin undertaking company, went to St. Louis Wednesday evening, and returned with the body this morning. Dr. Trader, who had been with Mrs. Trader since she entered the hospital, accompanied them home.

Funeral services will be held at the Trader home at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. Herman Janssen, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian church to officiate.

Mrs. George V. Sneed and Mrs. J. B. Drake will have charge of the music.

Friends who will serve as pallbearers are: Dr. A. E. Monroe, Dr. B. E. Broadus, George Yeaman, T. H. Yount, C. E. Cole and George V. Sneed.

Interment will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Stocks Successful In Recovery

NEW YORK, April 30.—(AP)—Stocks angled for further recovery in today's market, on the whole were moderately successful.

While the extension of yesterday's brisk rally was rather half-hearted, additional strength displayed by American Telephone, after its fall to new lows since 1929, attracted light bids in other departments. Gains at the best, ran to 2 or more points for favorites. Prices flattened out there and there in the final hour but plus signs were well distributed.

There was a fair amount of activity in the forenoon when quotations were around the top. The ticker tape reverted to sluggishness later and transfers for the full proceedings were around 300,000 shares against 412,000 Wednesday.

Literary Contest At Green Ridge

The literary contest held last Thursday afternoon at the Green Ridge high school building was one of the high points of the spring activities.

Competition was keen among the candidates of the high school classes.

In the declamations Almeta Rains, senior, won first place with "The Boy Who Was Traded for a Horse"; second place, Carol Beach, freshman, with "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

Serious readings: first, Helen Francis Boltz, junior, "The Last Mile"; second, Iva Lou Wadleigh, senior, "What God Hath Joined."

This reading was written by Miss Wadleigh.

Humorous: first, Leora Jean Pohl, senior, "The Last Day of School"; second, Geneva Farley, junior, "Ma at the P. T. A."

Girl Scout Notes

All Girl Scouts who have made containers for Girl Scout Flower Day, May 2, will meet at the Girl Scout office Saturday morning, May 2 at 10:30 and receive their flowers and names of shut-ins who are to receive flowers.

Intermediate and Senior leaders are asked to meet in the Girl Scout office Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m. All leaders are asked to attend as this will be the last meeting of leaders until next fall.

Troop 11 met at Jefferson school Thursday. We said the Girl Scout promise and motto and we talked about First Aid. We sang a song and played some games. Miss Bronson came to our meeting with our leader Mrs. Vaughan, and we hope she will come again. We dismissed with Taps.

Troop 3 met at Mark Twain school Tuesday. We had our regular business meeting and discussed the plays we are working on. We also talked of starting a new project. We dismissed with Taps.

Troop 16 met at Broadway Thursday. Mrs. Bloss met with us and we were very glad to have her. After we took the attendance we played a game and closed the meeting by singing Taps.

Brownie troop 60 met at Washington school Tuesday. We answered roll by saying the Brownie promise. We took a hike to Washington Park and played tag and returned to the school and were dismissed.

Troop 1 met last Friday at the Senior club room. We discussed plans for making flower containers for Girl Scout Flower Day, May 2. We also talked about buying war stamps May 23 and the Girl Scout picnic and First Aid demonstration May 16 at Liberty Park. We said the Girl Scout promise and laws. We decided to have our next meeting at the home of our leader, Mrs. O. M. Clouser.

Mary Louise Chessier, scribe.

Girl Scout troop 12 met at Broadway school Thursday. We had our fifth first aid lesson taught us by Mrs. Ryckman. We talked about the finger bandage and the sling. We had a spelling bee of first aid.

Troop 20 met at Sacred Heart last Tuesday and planned a hike to the new camp site for Tuesday. Our tin foil race will be over next week and our leaders will award gifts to the winners.

Jean Handley, scribe.

Troop 9 met at Washington last Wednesday. We opened the meeting with the pledge to the flag and the Girl Scout promise. We are going to have a ceremony for three girls, Patricia Estabrook, Patricia Makerson and Joretta Cox. We went out on the school ground and played games.

Joretta Cox, scribe.

Brownie troop 58 met at Jefferson school with our leader, Mrs. Lambirth. After roll call we made surprises for our mothers. Last week most of us finished our safety books and we cut out paper dolls for a shut-in. We went out of doors and sang songs and said the Brownie promise and dismissed.

Joyce Kell, scribe.

Bombers From Britain Repay Luftwaffe's 1940 Visits

Great four-motored bombers are letting Germany know what air terror means as they lay waste cities and industries from the Baltic to Brenner Pass. Map of blasted area is superimposed on photos showing: a British Stirling bomber, Essen's great Krupp war factories, Pilsen's equally huge Skoda works, and Hamburg and Rostock waterfronts.

Our Congressman Says . . .

Once in awhile an interesting little incident will happen which is quite a commentary on serious matters before the country and really "rings the bell." This was Congressman Cliff Hope's (Kans.) secretary in a flurry of spring carpentry work around the house found he needed a new bit for his brace being used for some little job his wife had been trying to get him to do all winter. He went down to the store to buy the bit, but was advised by the clerk since the said bit was made of a metal on which there was a priority he would have to sign a statement showing why he wanted it. This struck the secretary as being a lot of funny red tape for such a small matter, so he signed the slip as follows: "Bit to be used to bore hole through the fence at Griffith Stadium." (Washington's baseball park). The clerk glanced at the slip, saw it was properly signed, and handed over the bit!

Another Sixth District boy who has made good in the big city is Jerry Klutts, who was born and reared at Clinton, Missouri in Henry county. His daily column in the Washington Post, entitled: "The Federal Register," is popular, well written and the most authoritative of its kind. Mr. Klutts is an expert on questions dealing with the federal civil service.

Starting Figures. In 1913 the federal expenses were $700,000,000. Last fiscal year federal expenses, exclusive of emergency defense measures, were $9,000,000,000. Next year interest on the public debt will be as great as the total cost of the government under President Coolidge. In 1928 the legislative department (congress) of your national government spent $845,000 for the franking privilege. (Sending mail without postage.) The executive department (of which the president is head) spent $6,000,000 for the same purpose that year. In 1940 congress spent $745,000 for franking and the executive department spent $39,000,000. This year the travel bill of the executive department and its various branches will reach $150,000,000. Some of this travel and mailing is absolutely necessary to proper conduct of the government. Most of it is not. The figure would indicate to taxpayers and bond buyers that congress shows more of a disposition to cut down non-essential expenses than the executive department. This is not altogether the fault of the president. The people howl to high heaven when congress spends any money on itself. However, when large appropriations are made for bureaucrats who receive their jobs by appointment and who thus are not required to campaign for reelection, little or nothing is said unless it be in criticism of those who point out the need for economies in all branches of the government.

which the president administers and enforces and the judiciary interprets. That's just constitutional theory now. By the time you read this the president will have given the "green light" to legislation designed to cope with public clamor for action on several domestic fronts. His recommendations will be followed by introduction of bills on which there will be hot debate. Those measures which the president, as commander-in-chief, says are necessary to win the war I will support as usual. Others will receive my critical study and be judged on their merits. Many laws are being offered in the name of defense which simply seek to extend personal political power and radical reform in constitutional government.

Congress got it in the neck and took blame for national unpreparedness when the war started. But, Hon. Sam Rayburn, speaker of the house, was quoted on Mar. 18th by Majority Leader Hon. John W. McCormack, (Congressional Record, Page A1175) as having said: "Congress is being criticized but congress has given the president every law and every dollar he has asked for defense purposes." The congressman from the Sixth district of Missouri voted for every measure offered prior to Pearl Harbor for defense of our own shores and the western hemisphere. Since Pearl Harbor he has supported every measure requested by the Commander-in-chief for our own forces and for our allies. Defeats have proved our country was woefully unprepared for war. That is one reason I opposed moves to get us in. Money that should have been used for defense purposes was wasted in boondoggling. But, nothing is to be gained now by discussion of prewar policies. We are in the war. Our task now is to win quickly as possible with the least loss of men and material. Much time was lost in getting underway for war production.

Canada's automotive export trade reached an all-time high during 1941, according to the Department of Commerce. Trailers not only house about 35,000 families, but also serve as offices for physicians, dentists, libraries, clinics, shooting galleries, and telephone and telegraph offices.

The U. S. Navy already has more than 4000 naval airplanes in service. An additional 400 will be completed by July. Congress has authorized 15,000 planes.

H. Von Holton Injured By Broken Saw
Mrs. John Allison Leaves To Join Husband In Florida

By MRS. F. J. KRAXBERGER
Herbert Von Holton was seriously injured last Tuesday when a saw with which he was sawing lumber broke and his arm was caught. Von Holton's left arm was mangled below the elbow. He was taken to a Boonville hospital for treatment.

A farewell party was given at the city park Thursday night in honor of Mrs. John Allison, Jr., who will be accompanied by Miss Anna Mae Bowers to Jacksonville, Fla., where Mrs. Allison will join her husband, stationed at an army camp there. Mrs. Allison and Miss Bowers were members of the school faculty here last term. Attending the party Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Rapp, Mesdames, Harold Sahl, George Bradshaw, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Warnke, Mr. and Mrs. Lee T. Sims of Versailles, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kirchner, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hampton, Gene Bartram, Misses Viola Stobaugh, Joan Morris, Ruby Kerrick, and Anna Mae Bowers.

A large number of relatives and friends honored Mrs. Vern Taylor of Kansas with a party at the city park Sunday. All members of the Merriott and Fry families, who are related to Mrs. Taylor, were present.

The choir members honored Miss Viola Stobaugh Tuesday evening after regular rehearsal with a farewell party. Miss Stobaugh was director of the Methodist choir for the Easter cantata. Private Elmer Ehlers of Tennessee was among the soldiers here recently, and visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ehlers of Lake Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Jolly of Versailles are the parents of a daughter, born April 25. The baby weighed 8 1/4 pounds at birth. Mrs. Jolly is the former Hilma Dohrman.

Carroll Rippedger left for the army last week, and has been accepted for service at Jefferson Barracks.

A large number of relatives surprised W. H. Fajen Sunday, April 25 with a party in honor of his 75th birthday.

Neighbors and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. John Albers honored them last week with a party on their 30th wedding anniversary.

Wage-Hour Law provisions in relation to civilian pilots who ferry military planes to foreign countries have been waived.

Admonition To Advertise

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP)—Continued advertising to keep brand names alive in the public mind was advocated in the current issue of Domestic Commerce, weekly publication of the commerce department.

With the advent of war, wrote Nathan D. Golden, one of the department's industrial consultants, the function of advertising becomes increasingly important and one of its major jobs is "providing information to those fighting on the home front and in the production fields," to "help producers to increase output of fighting tools and promote more efficient use of products by civilians."

"With the possible introduction of the 'victory' label for canned and packaged goods," said Golden, "the question arises what will happen to brand names of merchandise for which producers have spent millions of dollars in advertising to make consumers 'brand conscious'?"

"Come what may in our effort to conserve materials, labels and distinctive brand names may, of necessity, become eliminated temporarily from packages and products."

"Manufacturers in Great Britain have met this problem in safe-guarding their investment in brand names by continued advertising."

Golden said that advertising to promote more effective use of products by civilians "may call for the use of larger space than ordinarily would be used for a selling campaign" and that it was the type of advertising that would "specialize in long copy—long enough to tell the complete story."

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Lorean Decker, daughter of Mr. E. P. Decker of Sedalia, to Mr. Eugene Boehm of Booneville, which took place November 3, 1941, at the home of Mr. Boehm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Boehm.

Mr. Boehm is operator at the Casino theatre, and is a member of the graduating class of Booneville high school.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Schott, 1115 East Ninth street, were honored at a surprise celebration Tuesday evening when a number of friends gathered on the occasion of their birthday anniversaries which both fall on the same date.

A fried chicken dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. L. O. McAttee and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Morgan and daughter, Caroline, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Kelley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Garrett and daughter, Wilma, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schott and daughter Joann.

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Miss Maxine Dump of Warrensburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Dump of Cole Camp, and Mr. J. W. Stephens of Rolla. Mr. Stephens is the son of Mrs. James W. Stephens of Beaman.

The marriage vows will be spoken at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, May 10, at the home of the Rev. H. U. Campbell, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church.

Miss Dump, who has been employed for two and one-half years as secretary to Raymond Rollins of the treasury department of Missouri Public Service, will leave Warrensburg Saturday for Rolla, where she has taken a secretarial position at the Bureau of Mines.

Mr. Stephens, formerly an engineer in the operating department for Missouri Pacific Service, is now employed as an engineer for the U. S. Geological Survey at Rolla.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Tucker of Atlanta, Ga., are guests at Hotel Bothwell and are visiting friends and relatives here after a sojourn in Texas. Mrs. Tucker is the former Miss Rosalie May of Sedalia.

Clothes From Old Automobiles

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—An Idaho clergyman's wife said today she had found war production board officials receptive toward her suggestion that materials for clothing and home furnishings for many families could be salvaged from the nation's 20,000 automobile graveyards.

The 62-year-old woman, Mrs. Walter E. Harman of Jerome, Idaho, was invited by Lessing J. Rosenwald, chief of WPB's industrial conservation bureau, to come to Washington to tell what church women of her home town had done with materials salvaged from automobiles and to explain how such a program might be undertaken nationally.

Mrs. Harman wore a suit, hat and other clothing made from fabrics removed from an automobile.

Mrs. Harman, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Silas Shaffer of Bryan, O., has served as a minister's wife at Hammond, Ind.; Atchison, Kas.; Twin Falls, Idaho; Hot Springs, Ark.; Angola, Ind.; and Jerome, where the Harmans went two years ago, for Mrs. Harman's health.

"I went to a relief office in Jerome one fall evening in 1940," she said, "and asked for some material which I wanted to use in making some clothing for a needy family. None was available."

"But Ralph Hafer, owner of the Jerome automobile wrecking

Society Girls Living Down 'Snooty' Label

That Is What Is Being Shown At K. C. Convention

KANSAS CITY, April 30—(P)—The Junior Leaguer is dead set on living down that snooty society girl label—and she thinks maybe the war'll do it.

Of course, she won't agree she ever was snobbish but she does admit that's what they used to say about her—and some still do.

At the twenty-second annual conference of the Junior Leagues of America she came prepared to work and not merely to play.

The 600 delegates, representing 36,000 members in this country, Canada and Mexico, left at home their evening gowns and the convention program is skipping all the purely social frills as a concession to the war.

Plenty of Luggage They didn't come exactly empty handed. By the size of their luggage it was a simple deduction that they did have more than a change of outfits and more than one of those pert spring hats.

"Are we snooty," counters Mrs. Linville K. Martin of Winston-Salem, N. C., the association's president-elect. "Well if we ever were we've outgrown it by now."

"We don't wear mink coats to go out and play Lady Bountiful anymore."

By hard knocks—bumps against politicians and businessmen—the girls who came from the right side of the tracks have learned, says Mrs. Martin, to do voluntary community service without looking like a meddling Mrs. Rich with too much leisure on her hands.

Here Is What's She's Like A peek at the average Junior Leaguer as an association survey shows her Twenty-eight years old, married five years, one or two children a family income of from $5,000 to $10,000; had (past tense) one car, one or a part time servant; 79 per cent college graduate, 90 per cent Republican (Willkie variety), and is 35 per cent employed.

If she drinks at all, she'll take a Scotch, please.

If she appears a trifle clannish she is no more so, as one delegate insists, than other organizations like labor unions, churches, civic clubs, lodges and the sort.

Crank, who was called home last week returned here with them. Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Ihrig motored to Wheatland, where they visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Goodman and also an uncle whom they had not seen for forty years.

Manners Mind Your

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Now that everyone is trying to save tires, is it necessary to drive clear around a block in order to let someone off on the right side of the street?
2. If you visit overnight a person who has room for but one car in his garage, should you permit him to let his car sit out while you put yours in the garage?
3. When a husband and wife are together in a car and one of them has to get out to mail a letter, should it be the husband or the wife who runs the errand?
4. If a man and woman are walking in the rain and the woman has an umbrella should the man carry it?
5. Is it good manners to insist on a person's doing something he seems reluctant to do, such as making a speech or being chairman of a committee?

What would you do if— A person writes you a letter wanting information which you cannot give him and he encloses an addressed stamped envelope for a reply—

- (a) Answer his letter, telling him that you cannot give him the information?
- (b) Don't bother to answer the letter since you can't give him the information he requests?

Answers 1. No. Not unless it is raining. 2. No. 3. The husband, unless there is no place to park and he must drive around the block while the letter is being mailed. 4. Yes. 5. No. The person who won't take "No" for an answer is usually a nuisance.

Better "What Would You Do" solution—(a).

New 'Vest Pocket' Classics Are Scaled For Modern Homes

Scaled down for modern movability and compactness is this 18th-century type mahogany diningroom furniture. Yes the designs all exactly reproduce the beauty of the originally large, heavy classics. Table and chairs are after Duncan Phyfe, buffet and closet after Chippendale.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

To win battles you must get there "fastest with the mostest" today as in the time of the stalwart cavalry leader Bedford Forrest. The half-track is the mechanized cavalry of our army today. It has a truck body and front wheels, powered like a tank.

One of these half tracks costs about $11,000 and our automotive factories are turning them out by the thousands. But if everybody in your community buys War Bonds your town could easily buy one or more of these tank powered trucks. They are vital to our army. Buy War Bonds every pay day and help beat your county quota.

Knob Noster

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kendrick and son, Milton, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. John Chestnut, of Warrensburg, spent the week end in St. Louis and visited their son, Mont, who is stationed at Jefferson Barracks.

"A Ready Made Family," a three act comedy was presented by the senior class of the Knob Noster high school Friday evening at the high school auditorium under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Foulds, the class sponsor. The following students were in the cast: Eleanor Grove, Rosemary Lay, Bob Carr, Roy Blaylock, Marjorie Wimer Agnes Bailey, James Kelly, Ruth McDaniel, Leon Temple and Bessie Boyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank House entertained the members of the Fellowship Sunday school class of the Methodist church at their home Tuesday evening. The evening was spent playing games and refreshments were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lane, Mrs. C. B. Means, and son, Billy K., Mrs. Marie Stephenson and son, Dale, Mrs. Lewis Leaton, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Parrott, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Austin and children, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Foster, Miss Julia Jenner, Miss Mary Bell Williams, Miss Opal McIntire and Joe McIntire.

Mrs. Wallace Wimer, of Houstonia entertained the members of the bridge club at the home of Mrs. Dudley Saults Thursday. There were two tables of players. Mrs. C. S. Elliott received the award for high score and Mrs. Dan Saults the traveling award. The hostess served light refreshments.

The Girl Scouts, accompanied by their leaders, Miss Julia Jeaner, Miss Mary Beth Williams and Mrs. Ray Kelly enjoyed a picnic supper at the Park Tuesday evening. Roy Neighbors, proprietor of the Highway grange for eighteen years sold his entire stock of supplies and tools at auction Tuesday.

Miss Adah Meredith accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Fran Chipley of LaMonte to Kansas City Monday to attend the funeral of her aunt Mrs. John P. Collier.

Eugene Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Boyd, who has been stationed at Camp Robinson, Ark., has been transferred to Camp Shelby, Minn.

Sweet Substitutes Used In Jams And Fruit Beverages

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

Combine the red sweetness of beets with the golden sweetness of honey, as the Russians do. You'll save sugar in wartime and have an unusual jam.

Honey Beet Jam

One pound beets, honey, ginger root, almonds and hazelnuts sliced.

Wash, peel and cut beets into 1/2-inch slices. Cook and drain. Add one cup of honey for each cup of beets and cook until thick. Flavor with ginger root and serve cold with almonds or hazelnuts.

In your wartime effort to save sugar, you should know just how sweet sugar substitutes are, compared to refined white sugar. This table will help you. Amount required to equal one cup of refined white sugar:

Mable sugar	1 cup
Maple syrup	1 cup
Honey	1 cup
Sorghum syrup	1 1/4 cups
Cane syrup	1 1/2 cups
Corn syrup	2 cups

Warm weather calls for fruit beverages. But how about sugar?

Some of these substitutes will be used instead.

Lemonade

Two and one-half cups corn syrup, 1 quart ice water, or carbonated water.

bonated water, 1/2 cup strained lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Mix the corn syrup and ice water, add the lemon juice and salt, and serve with cracked ice.

Fruit Punch

One cup corn syrup, 1 cup orange juice, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1 cup strawberry juice, bottled or 1 cup crushed fresh fruit, 1 1/2 cups freshly made, strong tea, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 pint ginger ale or carbonated water.

Mix all ingredients except the ginger ale. Just before serving, add chopped ice and the ginger ale. If the punch is too strong, add ice water in small quantities until the punch is the flavor desired.

Tomorrow's Menu

Breakfast: Dry cereal and strawberries, whole-wheat toast, honey beet jam, coffee, milk. Luncheon: Baked stuffed onions, cream saute, radishes, sliced fresh pineapple, tea, milk. Dinner: Boiled smoked tongue, parsley potatoes, spinach, honeydew melon, with lemon slices, coffee, milk.

To discover how truly good Parkay Margarine is—use Parkay in these 3 ways...

As an appetizing spread for bread. So pleasing is Parkay's delicate flavor that it's also grand on toast, hot biscuits and muffins. This, you'll agree, is a real test for any margarine! Heat brings out the true goodness of Parkay's quality ingredients.

As a flavor-shortening in baking. Instead of using a tasteless, bland fat for pies, cakes and cookies—use Parkay. Parkay is an economical flavor-shortening. It adds its own delicious flavor to the foods you bake with it—makes them taste better.

For all pan-frying. Drop Parkay into the skillet when you fry your breakfast eggs, fish, chicken or lean meats. You'll find this margarine improves the flavor of all pan-fried foods. It's wonderful to use, too, because it doesn't spatter or stick to the pan.

WAYS YOU CAN HELP AMERICA WIN

Every American housewife today has a job to do on the "home front." Here are a few of the ways you can help!

SAVE FOOD

Cook foods in their skins whenever possible.

Roast at low temperature in your gas oven and reduce meat shrinkage.

Plan at least one casserole dish a week to use left-overs.

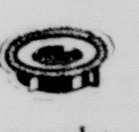

SAVE VITAMINS

Use very little water in cooking vegetables and cook only until "tender crisp."

Bring to boil quickly over high gas flame, then turn flame down and boil gently.

Use covered utensil to keep steam in. Do not add soda.

SAVE FUEL

Make full use of your gas oven or broiler by planning complete oven or broiler meals.

Do not preheat your gas oven or broiler too long. Cold start is possible, if preferred.

Avoid using small pans on large or giant burners.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

WHEN everyone is under more or less of the strain that springs from wartime activities these days, it is an excellent plan to make Sunday dinner a time of relaxation, to encourage light and gay conversational topics and to plan menus that suggest a little celebration.

Dress up even the simplest dishes with the decorative touches that give color and a party atmosphere. Radish roses, sprigs of parsley, slices of orange topped with a bit of red jelly all help to give a festive touch.

Among the fruits and vegetables which are low priced this week-end and will, therefore, help in planning economical menus are oranges, strawberries, avocados, asparagus, cauliflower, celery, radishes, parsley, iceberg lettuce, mushrooms, potatoes, white squash and spinach.

Roasting chickens are still the best buy for the meat course, both beef and lamb prices having advanced somewhat. Butter and cheese prices are unchanged. Cod fillets are low priced.

From Marion Rouse Budd, director of the A & P kitchens, come these suggestions for Sunday menus, each of which is carefully balanced from a nutrition standpoint and contains plenty of vitamins:

Low Cost Dinner

Roast Chicken
Creamed Spinach in Casserole
Cornflake Coated Browned Potatoes
Enriched Bread
Pineapple and Strawberries
Tea or Coffee

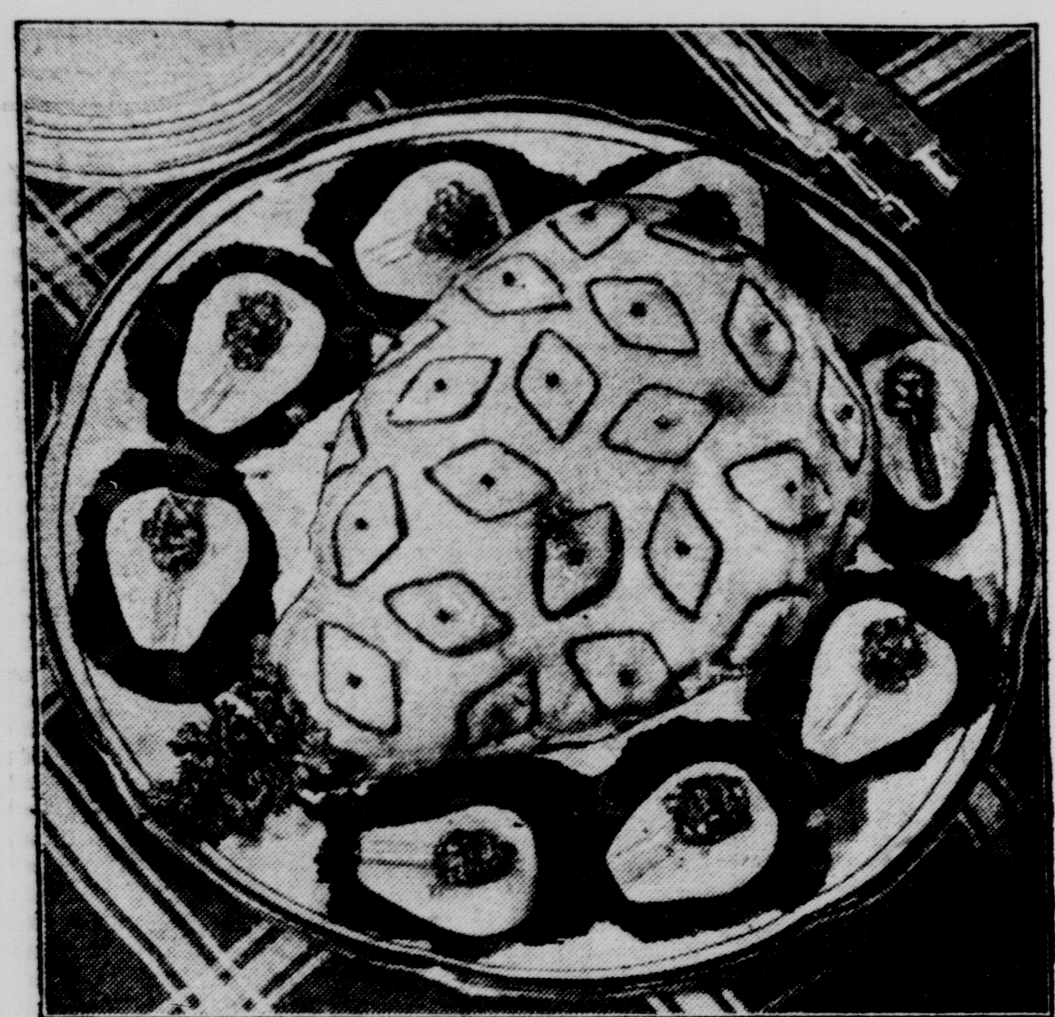

Medium Cost Dinner

Leg of Lamb With Mint Sauce Oven Browned Potatoes
Buttered Asparagus
Enriched Bread
Cheese Cake and Coffee

Very Special Dinner

Consomme
Roast Leg of Veal With Grilled Peach Halves
Whipped Potatoes
New Green Peas
Grapefruit and Chickory Salad
Enriched Bread
Chocolate Tarts
Tea or Coffee

Glaze and Decorate Your Sunday Ham!

Baked ham with a karo glaze is something to tickle Sunday-dinner appetites. Here you see this favorite food decorated with pimento diamonds and surrounded by stuffed pear halves. How to achieve this festive fare? The recipes are below!

If you like ham you'll like karo-ed ham even better for it has a special flavor inside and a sparkling "candied" outside!

First, bake your smoked ham as usual, according to directions on its wrapper; allow 30 minutes to the pound, and bake in a slow oven (300° F.). A half hour before ham is done, remove skin, and score fat by cutting with a cookie cutter, but do not remove centers. Cut thin strips of pimento and place in slits made by cookie cutter. Stick whole cloves in center of each. Drain excess fat from pan.

Mashed bananas and chopped salted peanuts in equal portions, with a little lemon juice added, make a nutritious and appetizing filler, for graham bread sandwiches.

PEPSI-COLA is made by Pepsi-Cola Company, Long Island City, N. Y. Bottled Locally by Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., of Sedalia.

Recipe for the Glaze
1/4 cup karo, 1/4 cup vinegar (blue label), 1/4 cup clear ham fat
Place karo, water, vinegar and ham, make up half of the above and continue cooking about 10 minutes; remove from heat; let cool slightly, and pour over ham. Continue baking 1/2 hour, basting several times.

Glazed Ham Slice
For glazing a slice of smoked ham, make up half of the above recipe; pour over ham about 20 minutes before end of baking time. (A slice of ham 3/4 to 1 inch thick, cut from center of ham requires about 1 hour for baking).

There's no grumbling when a spring tonic comes in the form of rhubarb. Mix 2 cups diced rhubarb, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2-3 cup granulated sugar and a tablespoon of water. Pour into shallow buttered baking pan. Cover with rich biscuit dough and bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven. Baste the top the last 20 minutes of cooking, using 2 tablespoons of honey mixed into 2 tablespoons orange juice. Turn out the dessert, rhubarb side up, and serve it plain, warm or cold, or serve with plain cream, crushed pineapple or lemon sauce.

Chilled, stewed prunes served atop fresh gingerbread squares turn out a patriotic sugarless dessert just right for spring when mineral build-up foods are needed.

FOOD MARKET Advice

WITH the knowledge of the tremendous number of eggs that will be needed to feed the boys in service, homemakers probably are wondering whether they will be hard put to find eggs for their own kitchens. So it is welcome news that there is a sufficient supply to meet all demands, although all grades are slightly higher.

Lamb prices are the same as last week, which is relatively low and there is also no change in veal prices. Beef prices are up a little and here again it is a matter of food for the men in uniform. So Mrs. American Homemaker will undoubtedly take higher prices with good grace. Roasting chickens around four and a half pounds are one of the best items.

Strawberries Plentiful
Strawberries are quite plentiful these days and either with sugar and cream or converted into short-cake or tarts are one of the most delicious of all spring desserts. The supply of California navel oranges is increasing. Other good specials for the week-end are avocados—and do not forget these are high in nutriment—asparagus, cauliflower, carrots, iceberg lettuce, mushrooms, potatoes and spinach.

Prevent Spoilage Of Kitchen Fats And Oils
BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

From 8 to 18 cents of your food dollar is spent for edible fats and oils. As your duty to your family and your country, waste none of these valuable foods. Here are rules to prevent spoilage.

Moisture, air, light and high temperature help cause rancidity. As a general rule, fats and oils should be stored in a tightly covered container in a dry, cool, dark place.

In storing fats and oils in a refrigerator or other cold place, keep them away from strongly flavored foods. One of the characteristics of all fats is their affinity for odors.

No fat should be thrown away. Utilize the drippings from bacon or sausages in frying or seasoning other foods.

In baking meats, fat collects in the bottom of the pan. This fat will be in much better condition if the roasting is done at a moderately low oven temperature. If sugar or other sweetening agent is used in the glaze, fat in the pan should be poured off before the glaze is added, since it will become dark and charred from the sugar.

Drippings should be strained to remove food particles, and then stored in a cool place. Left-over fats and drippings should be just as carefully stored as other fats and oils.

In using solid fat from a large container, it should be taken off the top evenly. Don't dig down into the center or the side. In so doing, more surface is exposed to the air, thus increasing oxidation. For the same reason, a tall narrow container is better

Now that the chain store system of merchandising and distribution has made fresh fish and other seafoods available in markets far inland, one should make frequent use of such items on the weekly menus, as they are both nourishing and usually good budget items. Flounder fillets are in excellent supply and reasonably priced, croakers, porgies, yellowtails and scallops are plentiful.

One should not overlook the cheeses when meat substitutes are desired. Many good varieties of cheese which were formerly imported are now being made in this country and there are endless ways to convert American cheese into delicious and hearty dishes.

A suggested menu for Sunday dinner which has plenty of vitamins but will not make too large a dent in the budget is the following:

Cream of Fresh Carrot Soup
Baked Ham Slices With Spinach Stuffing
Whipped Potatoes
Mixed Green Salad
Enriched Bread
Rhubarb Meringue Tarts
Tea or Coffee

for storing a large quantity of fat than a wide, shallow one.

The frying life of lard is increased if, after each use in deep-fat frying, it is strained through several thicknesses of cloth to remove all particles of crumbs, flour or other food. Cooking slices of potatoes in fat used for deep-fat frying onions or other highly flavored foods will remove these flavors.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Sliced oranges and strawberries, steamed brown rice, toast, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Rice tomato soup in cups, mixed raw and cooked vegetable salad, cup custard, tea, milk.

DINNER: Broiled frankfurters, mustard sauce, country fried potatoes, creamed radishes, fresh fruit cup, honey cookies, coffee, milk.

Prunes, stuffed with chopped sour pickles and cottage cream, chilled and put on top of crisp lettuce make a tart salad, just right for meat or fish. Serve with a thick, tart French dressing.

Chewing gum usually can be removed from car or furniture upholstery by rubbing gently with carbon tetrachloride and then scraping with a dull knife.

Missing sparkplugs can cause six different kinds of trouble—sluggish engine, slow pickup, loss of power, hard starting, uneven speed and incomplete combustion in the chamber.

Some cooling systems circulate water at the rate of 2500 gallons an hour. This is equivalent to the flow of water from 10 garden hoses playing directly on the motor at one time.

Both the Army and Navy boys seem to like iced coffee—with cream and other lovely accompaniments.

• Otterville

By MISS CORA CORDRY
The Junior and Senior class of Otterville high school attended the vocational guidance at Boonville high school auditorium April 15. On the program were addresses by Lloyd W. King, state superintendent of schools and Dr. Thomas W. Bibb, president of Missouri Valley College, Marshall.

Mrs. Pauline Spiller went to Kansas City Sunday called there by the death of Mrs. T. G. Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Favorite of Warrensburg were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Spillers.

Mrs. Sallie Smith, who spent the winter months with her daughters, Mrs. Raymond Merritt, Sherrill, Ark., and Mrs. Logan Carey, Okla., returned home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Wherley and son, Dicky spent the weekend in Jefferson City the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Stewart.

Junior Wear, who has employment at Neosho and Mrs. James Wear whose husband also has employment there spent from Monday until Tuesday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Wear.

Mrs. Elma Ferguson and Miss Mary Mitchell, of Columbia were guests Sunday of Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Fogle.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spencer and Miss Sue Hockaday of Slater visited friends here Sunday.

Mrs. Bertha Kroschen of Chicago came Saturday to visit Mrs. Julia Varner and Miss Margaret Jenkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Finley of Salisbury spent Saturday and Sunday with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Straten.

Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Fogle and Earl Varner were visitors in Boonville the first of the week.

Mrs. Ophelia Cline took suddenly ill Friday at the country home of her son, Wherley Cline.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gunn had as guests Sunday her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Harrison, also a cousin, Miss Vera Gerhart of Versailles.

Mr. and Mrs. Norton Hefferman, of Sedalia, were dinner guests Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. T. Edwin Wherley.

Mrs. Martha Everett, who spent the past several months in El Monte, Calif., with her brother, is spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irl Hotsenpiller and sister, Marianna before leaving for training camp about the 24 of April.

Mrs. George Spinks of Sun Valley, Idaho, came Sunday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Burford.

The Otterville high school band consisting of forty-eight members attended the closing exercises and basket dinner of the Harmony school Thursday and furnished the music on this occasion. The band orchestra and soloists went to Boonville April 24 for the annual Cooper county music contest.

A community social was held by the County Line Homemakers at their club house Saturday evening. About fifty members and guests were present.

Spiced vinegar mixture which comes with pickles makes a good seasoning for cooked beets or carrots. Add the vegetable to the liquid cover tightly and simmer 10 minutes. Cool and chill.

Seedless raisins simmered 5 minutes in leftover spiced peach juice or sweet pickle liquid make a delicious sauce for baked, boiled or fried ham.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Tents have been essential equipment of armies since Biblical days. U. S. Troops may need more than a million of them. They are comparatively inexpensive, since one tent costs about $37.50.

But that means the equivalent of the purchase price of a $50 War Savings Bond. Our army likes the pyramidal tent which provides space for five cots comfortably. Set on modern tent floors, water repellent, they are equipped with small stoves. You'll rest better tonight if you know our troops are sheltered. Buy U. S. War Bonds every pay day.

Advice

PATRIOTIC homemakers will shop with a nutrition card in hand, remembering that one of the most important wartime services they can render is keeping the energy of every member up to par with balanced meals.

To the nutritionally uninitiated it may at first seem difficult to effect a partnership between economy and nutrition but actually it is not. The government is urging that the individual diet include at least one potato a day and plenty of fruits and vegetables. Thanks to the modern chain store system of merchandising and distribution it is not difficult to keep one's menu well supplied with these fresh items without sacrificing economy in the kitchen.

Among the more plentiful and, therefore, lower priced fresh foodstuffs this week are spinach, potatoes, mushrooms, iceberg lettuce, parsley, radishes, celery, cauliflower and asparagus in the vegetable department and strawberries, oranges and avocados in fruits.

Roasting Chickens Low

pot roasts and chopped beef are both reasonable and legs of lamb are among the lower priced cuts. Frankfurters and bacon are both attractively priced and creamed frankfurters in a spinach or mixed greens ring makes an economical, nourishing and appetizing dish.

Butter and cheese prices remain the same as last week. Eggs are up just a little but not appreciably so. Boston reports that all varieties of fresh groundfish are becoming plentiful and that cod filets are an outstanding value. Heavy flounder production has brought prices quite low.

In the Chicago area carp, sheepshead and mullets are all at peak production and the lowest prices of the season are anticipated.

The following balanced menu made up of lower priced items is suggested for Sunday dinner:

Stuffed Celery
Ham Loaf With Grilled Pineapple Slices
Asparagus With Lemon Butter
Baked Potatoes
Bran Muffins
Strawberry Sundae
Tea or Coffee

Eggs-Milk Make a Main Dish

EVERYONE should drink more milk, and cheese once considered a light repast makes a completely satisfactory main dish. And it's so easy to make; the even distribution of heat in the oven of your gas range bakes it beautifully; use a temperature no higher than 325 degrees F.—300 is preferred if you wish to bake the souffle as illustrated, without a water bath.

Corn Silage Puts Poundage On Yearlings

Show More Gain Than When Fed On Legume Silage

Good beef calves and yearlings carried through the past winter on various kind of silage at the Missouri Experiment Station showed the superiority of corn silage for that purpose. Yearlings wintered on corn silage and alfalfa hay with a total of only 24 bushels of shelled corn per head were fat enough by the 6th of April to grade good when slaughtered.

Yearlings wintered on the various kinds of silage show that corn silage produced more rapid and economical gains than any other silage fed. Cattle fed legume silage that gained 1.42 pounds daily, compared to cattle fed corn silage that gained 1.27 pounds daily, and those receiving small grain silage gained 1.13 pounds daily.

Roughly, 65% more of Atlas sorgo and legume silage were required to produce 100 pounds gain, and 40% more hay. More than twice as much small grain silage was consumed per 100 pounds gain as compared to corn silage, and 70% more hay, and the gain was 3/4 of a pound less daily.

With corn silage at $4.50 per ton and alfalfa hay at $12.00, the feed cost per 100 pounds gain on the corn silage fed cattle was $5.77.

Made Beef With Minimum Of Corn

Yearling steers that were started on a fattening ration at the Missouri Experiment Station near the end of last December and fed until April 6 reached a weight of 1028 pounds each by the time they were 2-year-olds, and though they had received only 24 bushels of shelled corn per head, they had enough finish to grade good as carcass beef.

Originally bought as calves in the fall of 1940 and wintered on silage and alfalfa hay during their first winter, these steers were grazed during the spring and summer of 1941 on wheat and lespedeza. Then for the last 98 days they were fed a ration of shelled corn 10 parts and soybean pellets 1 part, with alfalfa hay and corn silage. During that period they gained 2.83 pounds per head daily, or a total of 277 pounds per head. Each 100 pounds of grain on these cattle during the 98-day fattening period required 8.8 bushels of corn, 49 pounds of protein supplement, 122 pounds of hay, and 487 pounds of corn silage.

Similar cattle on many Missouri farms are being fed largely concentrates, and by the time they weigh 1000 pounds, they will have consumed 50 to 60 bushels of corn.

Two things should be remembered. First, that these results cannot be duplicated on just any kind of cattle. The cattle must be bred to be a short-legged and thick-meated; and second, they must receive a continuous supply of good pasture, a part of which is a legume.

In other words, this lot of good doing cattle coupled with good winter rations and good pasture through the grazing season, will release 25 bushels of corn per steer to go for fattening hogs, which cannot utilize more than a small percentage as much pasture as concentrates.

Protein Supplements For Hog Feeding

Past experimental hog feeding results have proven the superiority of animal proteins such as tankage, meat scraps, skim milk or dried milk, or fish meal for pigs. However, when these supplements are high or out of the picture, as milk at the present time, it may be practical to replace a part of the animal proteins with vegetable proteins of known digestible content, if prevalent prices justify the practice.

Recent experiments at the Missouri Station, reported this month, showed also that the cost of gains was less when a simple protein feed was used as compared to more complex mixtures.

The simple mixture used in this work contained equal parts of tankage, linseed oil meal and cottonseed meal. In the complex mixture nine feeds were used; shorts, hominy feed, blackstrap molasses, tankage, cottonseed meal, linseed meal, dried buttermilk, gluten meal, and alfalfa meal.

Since the cost per pound of protein was less on the simple than in the complex, the production costs were lower with the simple mixture. This is usually true when corn is cheaper than protein feeds, since the more complicated the protein mixture, usually the smaller the percentage of protein contained therein, and hence the larger the amount of supplement needed to balance a given amount of corn.

With the present demand to push pigs until marketed, it behooves hog producers to use protein supplements of known feeding value to make the greatest contribution to victory and to their net income.

The results again indicate that hogs gain more rapidly when self-fed. Evidently, from 16 to 18% of the ration without pasture should be protein. With the existing farm labor situation, perhaps it would be advisable to self-feed protein as well as the grain on pasture this spring and summer.

Rhubarb Good As Appetizer

Some people say "why eat rhubarb." Some reasons are as follows: Rhubarb is tart and colorful, and a most pleasing dish at this time of year when appetites are rather dull. Because of its refreshing flavor and attractive color it may be served at the beginning of a meal as an appetizer or at the end of a meal for dessert. It makes a good accompaniment of meat, or may be used in place of a salad.

Rhubarb measures up only fairly well from a nutritional standpoint. It is a good source of vitamin C and a fair source of vitamin A. It contains lots of water and much oxalic acid which interferes with the efficient use by the body of the calcium and iron found in other foods eaten along with the rhubarb. Because of the high acid flavor and the reaction of this acid on the available minerals of other foods, rhubarb is not usually included in the diets of young children.

In preparing rhubarb for cooking, care should be taken to avoid stringing off the bright red color. Since it contains much water, none need be added if the rhubarb is baked or steamed and very little if it is stewed. The amount of sugar added will vary with the individual taste, for ordinarily one-fourth as much sugar as rhubarb by volume is used. J. W. C. Anderson, University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

Conference By 4-H Leaders

The Houstonia 4-H club leaders held a conference last Wednesday evening at the school house with Miss Dorothy Bacon, Home Demonstration Agent and J. U. Morris, County Agent, present. The purpose of this get-together was to clearly project requirements, discuss 4-H club activities and to go over the various records to become familiar with how to help boys and girls to keep the required reports.

This club has 46 members enrolled in 9 different projects. The community club leader is Mr. Roy Freund, the food preparation project leaders are Mrs. E. B. Brown and Mrs. C. F. Wicker; clothing, Miss Helen Chamberlain; garden, Rev. E. B. Brown; poultry, Mr. Dewey Houchen; corn, Mr. Ray Schondelmeier; pig, Mr. Clyde Hunter; ewe and lamb leader has not been determined.

During the evening plans were made for 4-H club programs, and illustrative material was exhibited and discussed by the agents. A 4-H banquet with food furnished by the different project groups was discussed and plans started.

Problems of Rural Life

New problems of buymanship demand better buymanship in 1942. The following rules for buying will help meet those problems. Before buying ask yourself this question: Do we really need it?

Remember that hoarding is undemocratic. If some families hoard while others cannot afford to do so, war sacrifices are not shared equally as they should be in a democracy.

Buy what is plentiful. Be willing to use substitutes for the scarce products needed for war.

Be patient if your storekeeper does not have the goods you want. He will do his best to supply your needs, but he cannot carry full stocks of everything in a war year. His difficulties will be multiplied by the war; try to understand his problems and cooperate in solving them.

Shop around, compare prices, and buy economically. A dime saved means a defense stamp in your book.

Suggestions for Victory Garden

Grow Quality Sweet Corn

Sweet corn is one of the crops which requires considerable area for the amount of food it produces and will therefore not be grown in the very small town garden.

Where there is ample space for it, however, it supplies an abundance of delicious food. The degree of palatability depends both on variety and stage of development in which it is eaten.

The hybrid varieties recently developed are superior in quality and through their seed is higher priced the eating quality is worth the extra cost. The Marcross is an early maturing variety of yellow corn which is very high in quality. It requires about 68 days from time of planting until it is in the edible stage.

The Golden Cross Bantam hybrid is one of the highest quality varieties of yellow sweet corn and requires about 80 days from the time of planting until it is ready to eat.

Hybrids of the Country Gentlemen and Evergreen varieties are high quality white corn which are superior in flavor to the open pollinated varieties.

Try Some Edible Soybeans

Varieties of soybeans which have been developed for table use have proven very satisfactory and are considered a very desirable food by many who have tried them.

The varieties Chusei, Bansei and Aoda are three of the outstanding varieties for best results under Missouri conditions. These varieties may be used as green beans, being removed from the pods and eaten green like lima beans, or they may be allowed to mature for use as dried beans.

The Chusei variety is the earliest and the Aoda is the latest of the three.

Edible soybeans are planted the same as regular green beans. On the farm the rows will be planted wide enough apart to allow for field implement cultivation, while in the town garden the rows will be 18 inches apart. The beans should stand about 5 inches apart in the row.

New Zealand Spinach

The Bloomsdale type of spinach which is best to use for the first, four succession plantings the early part of the season will go to seed when the weather gets extremely warm. Therefore, in order to have spinach throughout the season, it is necessary to plant New Zealand, a variety which will grow through the hot part of the season and furnish this very healthful food when other varieties are no longer edible.

When the ground becomes warmer, the latter part of the spring, it is time to plant New Zealand spinach. Due to its spreading nature and rapid growth, a very small planting will produce a large amount of food.

Even in small areas, the seed should be planted so that the plants will be about a foot apart and will then cover the ground. The seed should be planted only about a half inch deep as the tender sprouts are not able to force their way through a thick layer of soil.

Ways Of Using Spinach

Each person should have one green or yellow vegetable a day for the rich food values they contain. They not only keep us healthy but also add color and flavor to the meal, if cooked so that they retain their freshness. It's a serious mistake to overcook and to pour the "pot liquor" down the sink.

Use spinach as soon after it

Hold Everything

"I'm warning you—keep your seals out of my war garden!"

comes from the garden as possible. When cleaning the spinach lift it from the water to get rid of the grit rather than pour off the water. Spinach will keep crisp if, after washing it, is wrapped in a clean cloth and kept in a cold place.

Uncooked spinach is excellent in vegetable salad. Some combinations are: Spinach and tomatoes; cabbage, spinach, apples and nuts; spinach and hard cooked eggs. Wilting spinach also makes a good salad.

Never use soda in cooking spinach as it destroys vitamins. Water need not be added as the water which clings to the leaves after washing is sufficient for cooking. Cover the pan and cook only 3 to 5 minutes until tender. Season with salt, pepper and butter.

Watch Out Garden Insects

Watch plants for clusters of numerous small green insects called plant lice. Peas, radishes, cabbage, spinach, and several plants are often attacked by plant lice and severely injured early in the season.

Nicotine sulphate which is available at most seed and drug stores is the material to use when these pests are found. One teaspoonful in one gallon soapy water will make a spray, or one ounce mixed with one pound hydrated lime in a gallon bucket will make a dust. A few small pebbles in the container will aid in the mixing process.

For flea beetles, cabbage worms, potato beetles, and other insects which eat the plants early in the season, use arsenate of lead or calcium arsenate-lime dust. Mix one pound of arsenate of lead to five pounds lime, or one pound of calcium arsenate to ten pounds of lime. If a spray is desired use one tablespoonful of arsenate of lead to a gallon of water. If calcium arsenate is to be used, double the amount of lime. If waxy leaves such as cabbage are to be treated, add a small amount of soap.

Cultivating Strawberry Planting

The 1943 production of the strawberry bed planted this spring will be largely determined by the cultivation the plants receive this spring and summer. The bed should have shallow cultivations at such intervals as are necessary to prevent weed growth and to maintain the soil in good tilth. A good rule is a thorough cultivation after each hard shower and more frequently if necessary. A shallow cultivation using a narrow cultivator or a wheel hoe is most desirable. Some hand cultivation around the plants is also necessary. Strawberries cannot compete with weeds and grass this spring and produce successfully next year.

Inoculation To Help Soybeans

It is always desirable to inoculate soybeans on new land and it is particularly important this year in view of the large acreage that will be planted, says J. U. Morris, County Extension Agent. Much of the planting this year will be on land that has never been in soybeans before, or has not been in this crop in the last four or five years which means the inoculation has been lost.

Since increased production of food and explosives for war make enormous demands upon the nitrogen supply of the soil, and the amount normally available for fertilizer, everyone should do his part toward conserving our present supply of this important plant food element by inoculating ground that is not already inoculated. This practice will not only reduce the amount of nitrogen taken from the soil by the crop, but about 50%, but should in addition increase the yield and protein content of the soybeans.

It is necessary to use the inoculating material that is especially prepared for soybeans to get the desired results.

Cocklebur As Danger To Hogs

This is the season of the year when swine that are running on pastures where cocklebur plants are sprouting may die rather suddenly because of poisoning from eating the young cocklebur plants.

The cocklebur plant is only poisonous to hogs when it is in the young growing stage; that is, the two-or-three-leaf stage. The plants lose their poisonous properties when they have grown to the stage where they have more than five leaves.

The first symptoms noticed in hogs poisoned from eating cocklebur plants is depression, accompanied in most cases by nausea and frequently continued vomiting. As the sickness progresses the animals become too weak to stand. Very frequently the animal is found on its side with all four legs thrashing, and, in some cases, frothing at the mouth. The temperature is below normal. The animal may die in an hour or so after symptoms first appear, or it may live for as long as a day.

To avoid losses from cocklebur poisoning the most important thing is to prevent animals from eating the weeds. It is therefore advisable to graze animals on pastures that are known to be free of cocklebur plants. Pastures that are known to have cocklebur plants can be safely grazed when most of the plants have grown to the stage where they have five or more leaves.

If pigs escape to pastures where the plants are growing and are poisoned from eating the plants, the best antidote to use is any kind of fat such as lard, bacon grease, raw linseed oil, milk or cream, giving about 2 or 3 ounces of lard, cream or raw linseed oil, and anywhere from a pint or more of whole milk. If the animals are found in the early stages of poisoning, treating with any of the above antidote may result in saving most of them.

Need To Raise Healthy Pullets

This is not the year to waste poultry feed and labor by raising parasites instead of healthy pullets that can help feed our armed forces and civilian workers, says C. E. Rohde of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. Prevention of parasitic troubles is easier and far less expensive than unsuccessful attempts to overcome the damage that always comes when chicks are brooded on contaminated ground.

The first 8 to 10 weeks are critical ones for chicks, and those that pick up worm eggs and the parasite responsible for coccidiosis not only die in large numbers but adult birds losses are even more costly. Pullets that recover from coccidiosis may lay 40% fewer eggs than more vigorous pullets of comparable breeding, and laying flock mortality from all causes is always higher in the following fall and winter period.

Pullets that support a large parasite family of worms have little feed left for growth, even though their feed requirements are greater than those of healthy pullets. Wormy pullets require more time to reach laying condition.

Range shelters that are equipped with wire floors make it possible to solve two phases of the sanitation problem. The shelter can be used in connection with the brooder house to provide additional floor space and prevent chicks from picking up parasite eggs from contaminated ground. When the pullets no longer require artificial heat the range shelter can be moved into the edge of a cultivated field or pasture where it serves as a summer camp. Pullets raised in this manner will provide profitably and provide the means of efficiently converting feed supplies into needed food that is now doubly important because of the recognized protection health values that eggs have.

Missouri USDA War Board Question Box

- Q. Does the War Production Board order restricting non-defense building effect the construction of farm buildings?
A. Yes, in two ways. First, no new agricultural construction may be started without permission if the cost of 1,000 or more for the building or project involved. Second, no permission will be necessary if the cost of the construction is less than $1,000.
- Q. What steps can a farmer take to obtain permission for constructing a building costing more than $1,000?
A. Individual applications for construction costing more than $1,000 are approved by the WPB. USDA War Boards will certify applications locally. (Procedure is now being worked out for handling this work.)
- Q. Does this WPB order permit a farmer to spend $1,000 for an addition to his home?
A. No. Agricultural construction as defined by the order means any building used in the production of agricultural products—that is, a barn, milk shed, hen house, silo, etc.
- Q. What provisions have been made for repairs and additions to farm houses?
A. Farm houses are affected by a provision under which the exemption is limited to an estimated cost of $500 unless the purpose of the construction is to rebuild or restore construction damaged or destroyed under specified conditions.
- Q. Does this mean a farmer could spend $500 on his home in May and another $500 in November?
A. Not without special permission. No more than $500 can be spent in any 12 month period dating from the start of the construction. $300 may be spent at one time and $200 on another occasion.
- Q. Suppose a farmer already has construction under way. Will he be allowed to continue without securing approval?
A. Nothing in the order halts construction already begun but the WPB advises that such construction might be stopped later if the materials to be used are needed for war purposes.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

When the night bombers come over, the 60-inch lens searchlight of the anti-aircraft battery goes into action. When it does, however, we know that a good many Americans have chipped in to buy one, for these searchlights cost about $30,000 each.

They throw a beam of 800 million candlepower more than 40,000 feet, or nearly eight miles. They are the eyes of the anti-aircraft batteries. We need plenty of them. So buy War Bonds every pay day and top the quota in your county.

Clark Is Host With Country Ham

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP)—Senator Bennett Clark entertained guests Wednesday at a luncheon of Missouri country ham, turnip greens and cornbread.

Among the guests were Bernard M. Baruch, New York financier and presidential adviser; Donald M. Nelson, war production head; Sidney Weinberg, investment banker and executive assistant to Nelson; John L. Johnston, St. Louis; Senator Alben W. Barkley and Senator Harry F. Byrd.

Sedalia Doctors At Convention

A number of Sedalia doctors attended a state meeting of the Missouri State Medical association, held in Kansas City Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday this week. An important topic of discussion at the session was future military service for doctors.

Doctors from Sedalia who attended the conference were A. L. Walter, C. D. Osborne, M. P. Shy, A. J. Campbell, W. T. Bishop and C. G. Stauffacher.

Keep Gardens Free Of Insects

In the actual work of protecting gardens crops from insects, the grower should first prevent the pests from carrying over in large numbers in or near the garden and second control them when they attack the crops, says Station Circular 226—Controlling Garden Insects—just issued by the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

Keeping down weeds, disposing of crop residues and other litter, plowing or spading the garden in the fall or early winter will all help to reduce insect carryover in the garden. To supplement such controls, however, the gardener should be prepared to spray or dust the crops immediately insect pests appear.

Some gardeners prefer to use dust applications while others prefer sprays. The most commonly used poison spray for chewing insects includes 3 pounds lead arsenate to 100 gallons of water, or 1 tablespoonful to a gallon. If paris green or calcium arsenate are used, include only one-half the amount per gallon and add an equal amount of lime to prevent foliage injury.

On leafy vegetables, the newer pyrethrum or derris sprays should be used as directed on the rather than as sprays. A standard cides may be applied as dusts package. If desired these insecticide lead arsenate dust consists of one part lead arsenate to five parts of either flour, lime, or gypsum. In case of paris green or calcium arsenate use 1 part to 10 parts hydrated lime.

Apply derris and pyrethrum dusts as directed by the manufacturer, since there are a number of different commercial brands on the market.

By MRS. A. R. SNORGRASS. Funeral services for V. A. Wolf, who died at the Boonville hospital Monday, were held at the Catholic church Thursday morning with Rev. Breit reading the funeral mass. He was married to Miss Docia Snorgrass in 1933, four children being born, two, Mrs. E. Paul of Detroit, and George Wolf of Minneapolis, Minn. surviving. Mrs. Wolf died in 1900 and in 1904 he married Miss Bessie Boyle. Four children were born to them, three surviving, William of Palmyra, Paul of Los Angeles and Mrs. Clifford Pedigo of Tipton. Surviving also are three grandchildren and two brothers, Ed Wolf of El Reno, Okla., and Julius Wolf of Sedalia.

Mrs. Fannie Helper has as her guests, her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Helper of Los Angeles, California.

Spring Start For Producing Of More Food

Practices Of Soil Building Will Increase Yield

While American farmers on the farm front of the Nation prepare for the spring offensive in the Food for Freedom production campaign, they must not lose sight of the necessity for soil conservation and soil-building practices, B. C. Claycomb, Chairman of the Pettis County Triple-A Committee stated this week.

"Many Pettis county farmers may find it necessary to use other soil-building practices besides lime to earn their soil-building allowances this year because of the transportation shortage and the inability of contractors to make deliveries during the most favorable time due to the excess rains in the early spring," Claycomb said. "Missouri farmers had ordered 1,180,000 tons of lime by April 1 and only 160,000 tons had been delivered, leaving over a million tons undelivered to date."

A shortage of lime deliveries may make it necessary for Pettis county farmers to earn a larger share of their soil-building payment through seedings, farm ponds, contouring, terracing, and other approved practices, Claycomb pointed out.

The soil-building allowance for a farm is the maximum payment that can be earned by carrying out soil-building practices. Each farm's soil-building payment is determined by multiplying 70 cents times the number of acres of cropland in the farm in excess of the special crop acreages for which other payments are computed. Additional soil-building payments are determined by the acreage on the farm devoted to non-crop open pastureland.

For example, a farmer who has 150 acres of cropland that will qualify for soil-building allowance payments at 70 cents an acre could earn $105 by carrying out approved practices.

68th Running Of The Derby On Saturday

Doubt Attendance Will Fall Off; Sixteen Horses May Start

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30.—(P)—Kentuckians boast of their great race horses and rightly so but a trio of three-year-olds from the Texas cow country figures right strongly to have something to say about the hardboiled's own race when the bugle sounds the call for the 68th entry at Churchill Downs Saturday.

They are Ben Whitaker's game little chestnut, Requested, and the double barrelled entry of Valdina Orphan and Hollywood from Emerson Woodward's Valdina Farm. The records of all three are so flattering that it wouldn't be surprising to see Requested go post-ward at about 5:30 p. m. (Central War Time), mighty near equal choice in the betting with Mrs. Payne Whitney's combination of Devil Diver and Shut Out, and the Woodward entry not far behind.

There was a rumor going around last night that neither Valdina Orphan nor Hollywood would start due to lameness, but heads of the stable were willing to wager their horses would be in the parade to the post, and in front at the end of the $75,000-added mile and a quarter run.

As the horsemen on the backstretch settled on Devil Diver and his stablemate, Shut Out, as the pair to beat, this city gradually took on the traditional Derby air.

All modes of transportation brought additional fans, indicating there would be little, if any, falling off in attendance. The office of Col. Matt Winn, head man at the Downs, estimated there would be between 75,000 and 100,000 here. Sixteen horses are slated to start, making the largest field since War Admiral defeated 19 rivals in 1937.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press.
Roy Weatherly, Indians — Hit homer, triple and double to drive in four runs and score three against Athletics.

Dolph Camilli, Dodgers — Hit homer after two were out in ninth inning to tie score and make victory over Reds possible.

Walter Judnich, Browns — Hit two home runs to lead assault on four Yankee hurlers.

Nanny Fernandez, Braves — Collected home run, double and two singles off Cubs.

John Barrett, Pirates — Opened ninth with pinch single and scored tying run against Phils, then singled winning run across in tenth.

Don Ross, Tigers — Delivered pinch single to knock in run that put Detroit in front against Red Sox.

Bill Werber, Giants — Opened tenth inning with single and worked way around to score winning run against Cardinals.

George Case, Senators — Led 15-hit batting against White Sox with four hits.

Oklahoma's Quarterback Munsey Into The Army

NORMAN, Okla., April 30.—(P)—The University of Oklahoma's football forces lost their second backfield regular within recent weeks to the military services when J. S. Munsey, dependable quarterback, withdrew to enter the army air corps.

Junior Golding, sophomore wingback, quit school three weeks ago to join the coast guard.

Derby Day Assignments Being Made

First Real Challenge To All-Time Records Of Murphy and Sande

By SID FEDER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30.—(P)—Simply because the thin man from the blue grass—Eddie Arcaro to you — will be around Saturday afternoon, the all-time Kentucky Derby records of Ike (The Wizard) Murphy and Earl (The Handy Guy) Sande are getting their first serious challenge in years.

Although he is telling everyone he hasn't decided whether to ride Devil Diver or Shut Out from Mrs. Payne Whitney's stable, the chances are Eddie will take the diver.

And if Eddie chooses that one and the big-quartered colt comes through on schedule, Eddie not only will climb to a tie with Ike and the Hany Guy for having ridden three Derby winners apiece, but he'll also be the first to win two in a row since Jack Winkfield did it 40 years ago.

Jimmy Stout On Apache
Twelve of the starting jockeys have had previous Derby experience. Two of them—Jimmy Stout (on Apache) and Carroll Bierman (on Valdina Orphan)—have won the big heat.

Here are some of the boys who'll be in there Saturday:

Eddie Arcaro (Devil Diver)—a slim Italian from Newport, Ky., 27 years old and recognized as the greatest jockey in the country when it comes to a stake race. Won the Derby on Lawrin in 1938 and Whirlaway last year, and won both the Flamingo and Widener in Florida last winter.

Carroll Bierman (Valdina Orphan)—rode what was probably the best jockey-job in Derby history two years ago when he brought Gallahadion out of the pack to beat Bimelech. Is 24 years old, comes from Centralia, Ill.

George Woolf (Hollywood)—Known as the Ice Man because he's cool as that commodity when he's booting one along in a big stake event. At 33, oldest jockey in the race. Comes from Cardston, Canada. Won fame as the rider on Challedon when he was the horse of the year in 1939 and '40.

Jimmy Stout (Apache)—A little blonde fellow who "grabbed a handful of hair and held on" when Johnstown ran off and hid from the others in 1939; contract rider for William Woodward's Belair stud and generally regarded as one of the squarest-shooting little men around the race track. Is 28, from Lakewood, N. J.

Buddy Rides Requested
Leon (Buddy) Haas (Requested)—Has never ridden this Texas-owned colt in a race, but worked him out a few times in New York. Comes from Fort Gibson, Okla., and is 27.

Basil James (Alsab)—Known as "The Firecracker" from Sunnyside, Wash., he was once in the money in three former Derbies. That time was with Heather Broom in 1939.

Wendell Eads (Sun Again)—The comeback kid who was taken off Whirlaway at the last minute a year ago, and now wouldn't be surprised if he takes the Derby his first trip to the post; little baby-faced 29-year-old who hails from Charleston, Ill.

Conn McCreary (First Fiddle)

—Considered as good a stretch rider as you'll find around. A short-legged, husky-bodied kid from St. Louis, he's 21 and tried—but failed—with Our Boots a year ago.

Johnny Adams (Sir War)—Short-stirruped rider from Iola, Kas., who led all jockeys in the country a few years back; is 27 years old, and always a threat.

Johnny Longden (With Regards)—Thinks his mount is a cinch after riding him to a track record victory in the Arkansas Derby; born in Wakefield, England, 32 years ago.

Care Of Tires Urged by Local Store Manager

Moved by evidence in Sedalia that a large section of the automobile owning public still fails to realize the stern necessity for conserving tires, W. B. Morgan, resident Goodyear manager today branded fast driving as distinctively unpatriotic.

"The first thing we must realize," he said, "is that America cannot win this war without rubber."

"The second fact we must face is that the amount of rubber in America is definitely fixed; there will be no more until the Japs are chased out of Malaya and the Indies."

"Every bit of crude rubber on hand and the production of synthetic rubber for many months to come will be needed for prime military purposes," Mr. Morgan continued. "Any other course would invite disaster to our armed forces. Our boys have got to be as fast and mobile as the enemy in order to stand an even chance with them and that means our fighting equipment must roll on rubber."

"Under these circumstances there will be no rubber for tires for the average motorist for many months and possibly years. The tires we have on our cars must be made to render the greatest possible mileage."

"Anyone who drives over forty miles per hour is shortening the life of his tires. Anyone who uses his car unnecessarily is squandering precious rubber. It is a thoughtless and unpatriotic act to waste a single ounce."

"We cannot forget that millions of war workers must have tires to get to their jobs. If they don't have tires, production will suffer and we'll be up against that old story of 'too little, too late'. The tires now on the cars of the public constitute America's biggest single reserve of rubber and if the owners don't take perfect care of them, our whole war effort is bound to suffer."

The last five years have seen more attention directed to the improvement and care of pastures or ranges than during the previous history of the range.— J. T. Sarvis, Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

At least five states are considering a plan to issue only one license plate for the duration of the war.

Dodgers And Giants May Be Blacked Out

Billy Conn May Find Himself Fighting Joe Louis By Moonlight

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

NEW YORK, April 30.—(P)—When the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers return from their tour of the west, they may find their parks blacked out but they won't be the only ones in the dark.

Billy Conn may find himself facing Joe Louis in a ring illuminated by nothing stronger than the moon—a task as difficult as it is dangerous.

The prospect of a total blackout for all night sports attractions scheduled out of doors in New York resulted from the "dim-out" regulations which went into effect April 28.

The army had signified no objections to baseball or other sports at night, but it turned the actual enforcement of the dim-out order over to local authorities and the lights here went out in a hurry.

Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine indicated immediately that all sports requiring artificial illumination would be banned in New York for the duration of the war.

The order will affect baseball and other sports at night, Valentine said, since the lights can be seen above the horizon. "That means they can be seen far out at sea."

The Giants and the Dodgers still have more than three weeks to find some way to cut down the overhead glare of their lights, convince Valentine that the illumination doesn't help the enemy, or give up night baseball.

Both teams have 14 night games scheduled at home this season. The New York Yankees play no night games at home.

If Valentine's statement becomes an order, the lights will be cut off for prize fights and the major league All-Star game at the Polo Grounds July 6.

Only two weeks ago, the baseball advisory council changed the All-Star contest from day to night in an effort to attract a larger crowd, since the proceeds go to army and navy funds.

Fights Last Night

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 30.—(P)—Anton Christoforidis, 168½, knocked out Paulie Mahoney, 167, Boston (9). Bernie Miller, 139, Buffalo, outpointed Francesco Montanari, 147, New York (6).

Although official figures for the 12-month period had not been released at this writing, the monthly average passenger volume indicated the airlines carried roughly one million more passengers in 1941 than in 1940.

Both Nazi and British bombers carry balloon-cable cutting devices on their leading edges. However, it seems that the Nazi snipers are far too heavy and thus affects the ship's performance.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, April 30.—The may be rough on the minor leagues but apparently baseball will keep right on going. . . For example, when the class "C" Arizona-Texas league folded up, Tucson, Ariz., organized an eight club semi-pro circuit. . . Season will start May 5 (Mexico's Independence Day) and run for 18 weeks with four night games weekly. . . The league includes two army teams and the ball park is practically on one of the posts, which should provide plenty of customers at ten cents a throw for men in uniform. . . And Michigan towns are replacing the Michigan State league a non-professional loop that may take in twelve clubs.

Wrong Number

When Bron C. Bacevich, coach at St. Bede's academy of Peru, Ill., read that Aquinas high school of Chicago had been admitted to the Illinois high school association, he wrote there suggesting a football game. He received this reply: "Dear Mr. Bacevich: We have 466 lovely young ladies at our Dominican high school. If you still are interested in a football game, please let me know.—Miss Elsie Bergman, coach."

Today's Guest Star

Kenneth Jones, Peoria (Ill.) Journal Transcript: "There is some slight agitation to have Joe Louis try his hand against some southpaw pitching, Melio Bettina, the southpaw, being the chief agitator."

Minor Matters

Bill Diehl of the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch casts a vote for Manager Buzz Boyle of the Norfolk Tars for plain courage. . . The other day Norfolk and Portsmouth went into the 12th inning with the score tied 1-1. . . The Tars loaded the bases with two out and Boyle yanked the clean-up hitter and went in to bat himself. He took himself off the spot by socking a third pitch for a gamewinning double. . . Joe Engel was talking this spring about changing the nickname of his Chattanooga ball club from "Lookouts" to "Choo Choo." But after his youthful players had won a few games, the scribes took things in hand and tabbed them the "Whiz Kids."

Dom-Nicknames

Charley Grimm used to call little Dominic Dallesandro of the Cubs "Dim-Dom". Now Coach Dick Spalding has nicknamed him "Bubbles." Dallesandro says: "I don't care what you call me, just so you call me at meal times."

Old Jim Gore was a one standard man

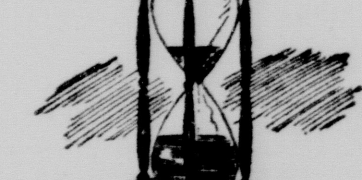

HE BELIEVED in one grade, one quality—whether it applied to his favorite saddle horse, a friend or a whisky. It had to be the "Best in the World". That's how he described the prized bourbon whisky he originated: . . . Old Jim Gore . . . Best in the World.

Today: . . . Old Jim Gore Bourbon is back, after years of careful preparation to exactly duplicate the original 3-point formula that Old Jim, himself, laid down:

1 "Must be distilled from genuine old-time sour mash Kentucky bourbon."

2 "Must be made with an extra quantity of costly, small grain—for richer flavor."

3 "Must be slowly distilled...carefully aged...to make it extra light and mellow."

So you can thank Jim Gore that this new-old Kentucky bourbon has the most distinctive taste that ever warmed your heart: . . . that it's so extra rich in flavor—yet so mellow.

Treat yourself to Old Jim Gore at your favorite tavern, or take a bottle home this evening. Taste it and you'll feel like hoisting a toast to that grand old character and his kind of whisky: . . .

Report Peace Feelers Made By The Nazis

British Official Sources Disclaim Knowing Of Move

LONDON, April 30—(P)—The A. F. I., independent French news agency, reported without qualification Wednesday night that Germany had made three peace proposals to Britain within the last six weeks.

The agency said the proposals were similar; that the first was made through Turkey, the second through Switzerland and the third through Sweden.

Authoritative British sources disclaimed knowledge of any such overtures.

(Adolf Hitler in his Sunday speech made remarks interpreted by some observers as hints at a "peace offensive" directed toward Britain, particularly when he tried to suggest that it would be the U. S. or Russia, not Germany, that would destroy Britain.)

(There have been also hints, presumably of axis origin, that Italy might be willing to make a separate peace.)

(Archibald MacLeish, chief of the U. S. office of facts and figures, last week in New York predicted such a "peace offensive" from the axis powers.)

Says Memorandum Sent

The French agency said that Germany, seeking a free hand to concentrate on the eastern front, had submitted a 9-page "Goering memorandum" to Britain. That memorandum was said to have been the basis for all three "feelers."

Its points were reported to include:

1. Britain and the United States to recognize German control in Europe, Germany being prepared to consider Anglo-Saxon suggestions for application of the "new order" on the continent.

2. Germany to annex such Russian territories as she considered necessary to her "living space."

3. Germany to control virtually all of the French, Dutch and Belgian colonial possessions.

If the allied powers accepted those fundamental conditions, Germany would undertake the following, according to the French agency's outline:

1. To recognize the British empire in its present form.

2. To recognize "control" of Latin America by the United States "both in political and economic spheres."

3. To collaborate in setting up a system of trade between the three "empires"—Germany's, Britain's and America's.

The last paragraph of this so-called Goering memorandum was reported to have referred to assistance which Germany would be prepared to give the allies in order that they might "drive Japan back to her natural limits."

Linked To Free French
The A. F. I. (Agence Francaise Independent Ltd.) is linked to Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Free French government, and its local and foreign staffs are composed mostly of former Havas agency correspondents who escaped from France after the Nazi occupation or who refused to return from their posts abroad.

The agency originally was named Agence LEF—For "liberty, equality, fraternity," of the now defunct French republic—when it was founded in July, 1940, then was reorganized under its present name Jan. 29, 1941.

Its managing director is Pierre Maillaud. Among the other directors are Pierre Comert, for many years head of the press department of the French ministry of foreign affairs in Paris and now editor of "France," a Free French newspaper published in London, and Jean Massip, chief of the Free French information bureau.

Andre Geraud, or "Pertinax," a famous French political reporter, is the agency's Washington correspondent.

At The Fox

A strikingly able and successful array of juvenile talent comes to the Fox theatre screen Friday and Saturday in "Tough As They Come," a thrilling melodrama dealing with rackets and racket-busting. Headlining the cast are those talented youngsters known variously as the Dead End Kids and the Little Tough Boys. Paul Kelly, Helen Parrish and Ann Gillis augment the personnel prominently involved in the cast. The companion hit on the same program is Clarence E. Mulford's "Stick To Your Guns" with the popular western star, William Boyd in the title role of "Hopalong" Cassidy.

Seven Flyers Die In Crash

ORLANDO, Fla., April 30—(P)—Seven army flyers were killed Wednesday when a bomber and a suit ship collided in midair about nine miles west of here.

The dead were announced by Colonel Thomas S. Voss, commandant of the Orlando air base, as:

Second Lieut. Ernest W. Robertson, Eugene, Oregon.

Second Lieut. Joseph S. Smith, Yoakum, Texas.

Second Lieut. Richard R. Carnevale, Columbus, Ohio.

Private M. C. Brown, Detroit, Mich.

Private L. A. Gerhart of Wernersville, Pa.

Private Wm. E. Wimp of Holland, Mich.

Second Lieut. Robert S. Boyce, Chillicothe, Ohio, pilot of the pursuit ship.

The bomber, carrying the crew of six, was attached to MacDill Field at Tampa and the pursuit plane was from the Orlando air base.

Both ships burned following the collision, the wreckage of the bomber falling into an orange grove and the pursuit plane coming to earth two miles away.

By the end of June, 1942, the U. S. Army Air Forces should be expanded from its present goal of 54 combat units (not yet fully in effect) to 84 groups, with a total of 400,000 in personnel.

Chief value of anti-aircraft guns is not necessarily in bringing down enemy bombers, but in keeping them high and spoiling their aim.

Navy Cross To Lieut. Teaff

Took Off After Japs After His Plane Damaged

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 30—(P)—Lieut. Perry L. Teaff, 26, navy flier from Springfield, Mo., who participated in three major aerial engagements against the Japanese, was awarded the Navy Cross Wednesday by Rear Admiral Ralston S. Holmes.

Admiral Holmes, commandant of the 11th naval district, commended the young officer for his courage and resourcefulness in the service of his country while on duty at Pearl Harbor December 7.

A native of Springfield, Lieut. Teaff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Teaff of Beggs, Okla.

The citation said that Teaff "in order to search for and attack the enemy unhesitatingly took off from the naval air station, Pearl Harbor, in a plane which had already been damaged by enemy fire, and continued with a defective engine at a time when no chance for rescue existed."

Hasty Repairs To Plane

Teaff was with a squadron returning from a routine flight the morning of the attack on Hawaii. The planes were attacked by enemy aircraft as they headed toward their home base, and Teaff's ship was badly damaged. Immediately after landing, however, he and his radioman, who received a slight wound in the encounter, made hasty repairs.

Then Teaff took off and, despite the fact the plane's engine had been hit and did not function properly, attempted to follow the Japanese planes and locate enemy carriers. For nearly three hours he flew over ocean waters in the search.

Later Teaff had two more opportunities to tangle with the Japanese, and emerged from both uninjured, only to receive an eye injury in a crash while on routine duty.

Teaff insisted much of the credit for his achievement belonged to the radioman who helped make temporary repairs on the plane. The officer said the Japanese were good fliers, but Americans were superior, and proving it.

Teaff's wife and 10-months-old daughter reside in Imperial Beach, Calif.

Comments On Price Freeze
By Leaders

Praise To Plan From Many As Some Criticize

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
NEW YORK, April 30—(AP)—The government's general price-freeze order—greatest economic control effort ever undertaken in America—won praise from many business and financial leaders throughout the country Wednesday as a step in the right direction.

Many retailers, however, insisted that freezing both wholesale and retail prices as they existed in March failed to take into account faster advances in many wholesale prices, and asserted that unless adjustments were made, retailers profit margins would disappear and many would be forced to the wall.

Other criticisms were that the general anti-inflation program left wages subject only to voluntary stabilization, and permitted further substantial advances in farm prices, pending new and uncertain legislation.

Among comments of labor leaders were:

Daniel J. Tobin, president of the international brotherhood of teamsters (AFL), at Indianapolis:

"The President will not be able to stabilize the necessities of life to protect us. x x x Until we are satisfied that it can be done, labor will oppose any such thing as a standard wage."

Lucy Randolph Mason, public relations director of the CIO in the south:

"Labor approves freezing of prices and freezing of profits. When this is done wage freezing will not be necessary. Labor's demands for wage increases have been based on huge profits of industry."

Hassell E. Schenck, president, Indiana farm bureau:

"Agriculture would be glad to comply with price-fixing if at the same time an equitable price with farm products is placed on industrial profits and wages. x x x The farm bureau is opposed to a ceiling on farm prices at 100 per cent of parity."

Louis G. Tabor, past master of the National Grange:

"The vast price freezing program will be successful only by treating labor, agriculture, and industry exactly alike on questions of wages, prices and profits. x x x In spite of shortages of labor and equipment, the spirit of Concord bridge is aflame on the farms of the nation."

Hope To Adjust Inequities
Meanwhile, there was widespread expression of hope that inequities would be adjusted, and that the system would be made to work.

Some pointed to controls over processed foods as a move in the direction of holding down farm staples. As a further step, Price Administrator Henderson today froze the ceiling price at which manufacturers could sell virtually all types of cotton goods.

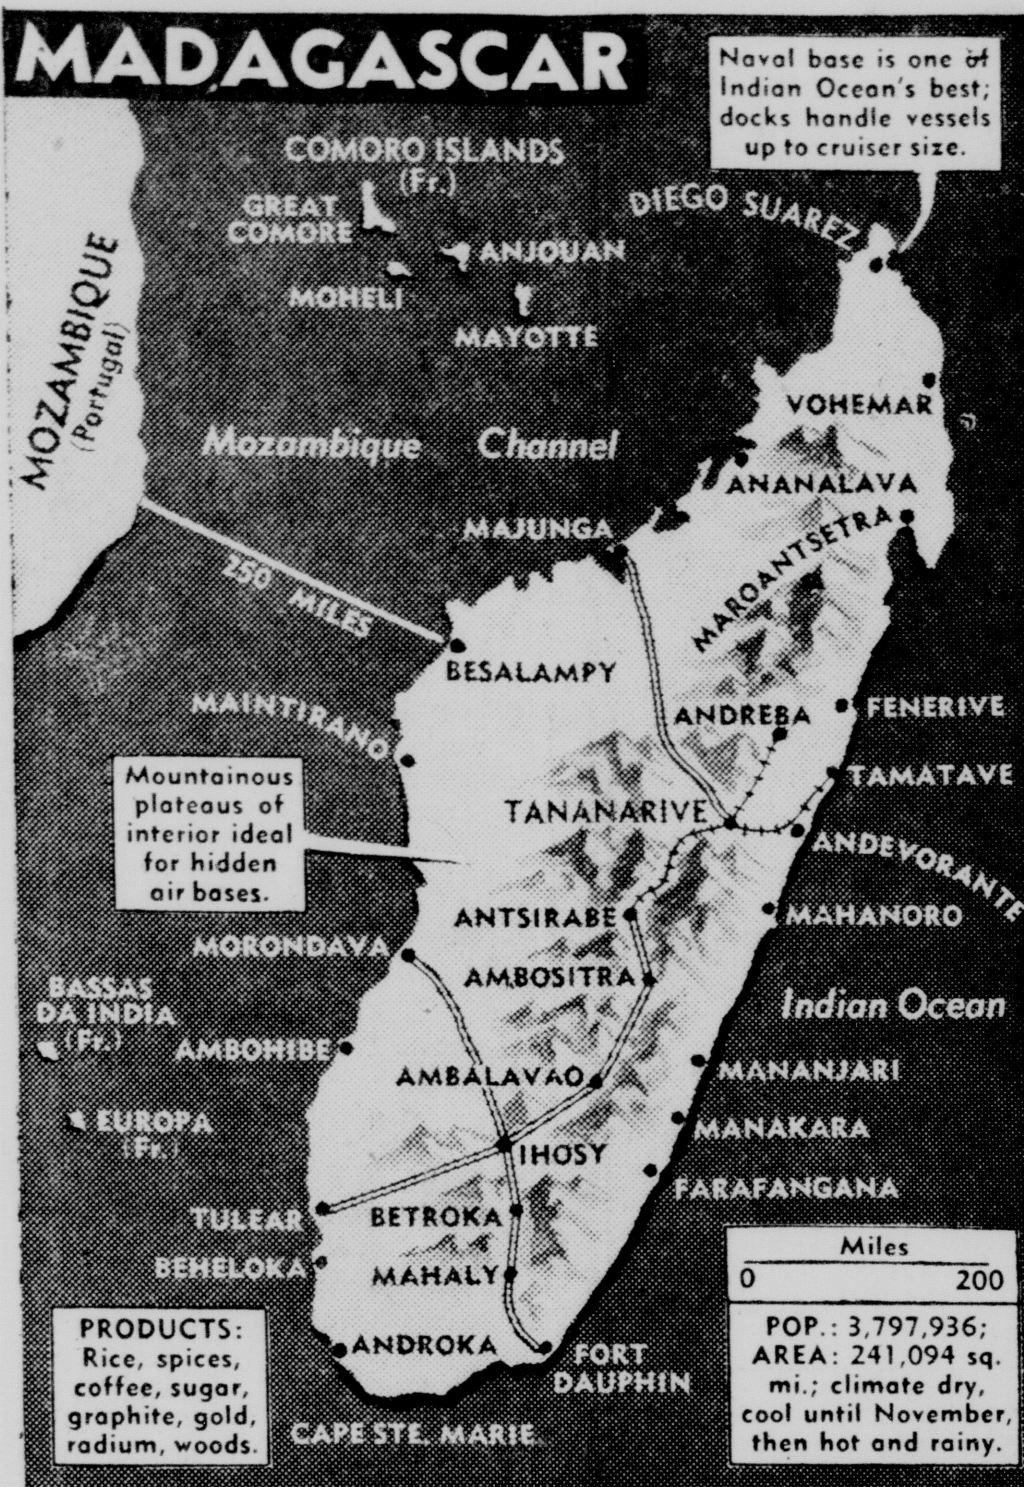

On wages, it was noted President Roosevelt made the definite assertion in his address last night:

"You will have to forego higher wages for your particular job for the duration of the war."

At the same time, the President said business men's profits were going to be cut down "to a reasonably low level."

In making the controls work, some business executives said what was needed was fair adjustments to prevent business profits from disappearing and firms being forced to shut down.

One pointed out that, for example, some grocery chains make less than 2 cents profit per dollar sales. He gave what he regarded as a typical department store situation, showing less than 5 cents. "Freezing retail prices and wholesale prices in situations where the retailer is still selling goods bought at lower levels, but the wholesale price has jumped say 10 per cent," this expert said, "obviously more than wipes out the profit."

Several retailers said that if future prices should be fixed as of March, wholesale and manufacturing prices should be fixed as of levels a few months previously, since they had been rising faster than retail, due to the normal lag.

The sensitive financial markets, meanwhile, made a hopeful response. The stock market, which had been declining to the lowest levels since 1933 recently, rallied briskly for a time, and finished with many gains of $1 to $2 a share. Merchandising shares were little changed. Corporate bonds were a little higher, as were wheat and cotton.

Launch Over Two Ships A Day

CHICAGO, April 30—(AP)—Admiral Howard L. Vickery of the United States maritime commission promised Wednesday that 23,000,000 tons of new merchant shipping would be delivered to the nation by the end of 1941.

"That is more shipping than England had in her whole fleet before the beginning of this war," he said in an address delivered at the 30th annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. "And it is about half the amount of shipping that the whole world had at the beginning of this war."

Admiral Vickery reported the 45 yards building maritime commission ships already were launching more than two vessels a day, but he weighted his glowing production figures with a solemn word of warning. "I would be fooling you," he said. "If I tried to tell you we can build ships as fast as we can lose ships. It can't be done. A ship can be sunk in five minutes, and a ship cannot be built in much less than 80 days.
